

President Is In Jubilant Mood On Last Day In Army Hospital

DENVER (AP)—Today is President Eisenhower's 48th and last full day in Fitzsimons Army Hospital. Tomorrow it's off to Washington and a joyous "welcome home" reception.

The mood at the hospital on this final day—among the doctors, nurses and all the others who have cared for the 65-year-old President—is a joyous one, too. They are all delighted—and so relieved—that his damaged heart is mending well.

Eisenhower undoubtedly is happiest of all, although his wife is feeling mighty good about the way things are going.

Business Is Light
With check-out time just a day off, the President's business agenda was being kept light to assure as much last minute rest as possible. He had no official government visitors scheduled today except for his chief aide, Sherman Adams.

Departure from the hospital is fixed for about 8:30 a.m. MST tomorrow and 30 minutes later he will take off for Washington aboard his private plane, Columbine III.

His doctors agree that the President could have left the hospital a few days ago if he had been willing to be carried aboard the plane. But he insisted that when he did leave he was going to be able to walk up the 19-step ramp.

Now he is able to do that. Yesterday he walked up and down a 20-step flight of stairs at the hospital a half dozen times.

Will Speak To Nation
In going up the ramp to his plane at Lowry Air Force Base here, Eisenhower will pause on about the seventh step at a microphone in place there and address the nation briefly on television and radio. He probably will express thanks for the prayers for his recovery and for the tens of thousands of "get well" messages he has received.

He also plans another brief informal talk on arrival at the Washington airport.

There will be a "welcome home" reception there and greetings from crowds along the route from the airport to the White House, which Eisenhower left Aug. 14 for a Colorado work and play vacation. He was stricken in Denver Sept. 24.

After a weekend of rest at the White House, the President will travel on Monday to his farm at Gettysburg, Pa., for further convalescence.

MOOSE PREPARE FOR DEDICATION OF NEW ADDITION

Members of the local Moose lodge are using much of the remodeled section of its home on York St., Governor M. Lloyd Hankey announced today. Former dedication of the new quarters will take place next week, starting Tuesday evening with a dinner marking the 13th anniversary of the establishment of the Women of the Moose here.

The offices, stag bar and kitchen have been opened for use of the members, and the lounge will be ready for use Saturday. Hankey suggested that members inspect the new quarters prior to the formal dedication exercises next week.

With the placing of a concrete sidewalk in front of the home Wednesday, the former entrance is still in use, Hankey said. As soon as the new sidewalk is usable, the new front entrance will be opened.

Speakers at Tuesday's dinner were announced today: Mrs. Mabel Shively, grand regent, from Baltimore; Mrs. Hazel Hummel, junior graduate grand regent, and Mrs. Fred Clinger, graduate grand regent, both of Lewistown.

An open house will be held for the public November 18 from 7 to 9:30 p.m. as part of the dedicatory program. During the open house, movies of Mooseheart and Moosehaven, the international Moose lodge organs' home and home for the aged, will be shown by Chester B. Steffen, state director of the LOOM. Next Wednesday the annual shrimp supper will be held for the members. Next Thursday a turkey party will be held and next Saturday, a dance. Sunday, November 20 the dedicatory program will close with the formal dedication, open to the public, at which J. Jack Stoehr, pastor supreme governor, will be the speaker.

3 P. O. ROOMS RENOVATED FOR OFFICIAL STAFF

Under the direction of Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, and Russell A. McMullin, chief of White House transportation, arrangements were completed Wednesday for facilities for government and press corps use during the convalescence of President Eisenhower at his Gettysburg farm.

The government will take over three large rooms in the post office for the use of Sherman Adams, assistant to the President; Miss Anne Whitman, the President's secretary, and Mrs. Mary Jane McCaffrey, Mrs. Eisenhower's secretary. Burgess William G. Weaver and Chief of Police Jack Bartlett have set aside 10 parking spaces on East High St. for government use.

The space allocated for government use was formerly occupied by the National Park Service and the Internal Revenue office. As a result of the changes the National Park Service now has six rooms instead of eight, consisting of three offices, a library, storage room, and a workroom.

Completely Redecorated
The new offices are being completely redecorated and will be furnished with office equipment. A telephone switchboard has been installed in the basement of the post office.

Snyder and McMullin flew to Gettysburg Wednesday afternoon in a helicopter to complete arrangements for office space and to assign space, desks and printers for the three news services in the Hotel Gettysburg annex. The Associated Press, United Press, and the International News Service.

TV crews from CBS and NBC also conferred with Snyder on Wednesday and wirephoto equipment was installed in the dark room of The Gettysburg Times by the Associated Press. The Associated Press staff will consist of six or eight men during the President's stay in Gettysburg.

James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary, will have private offices in the remodeled annex of the Hotel Gettysburg.

YWCA GROUP TO OBSERVE WEEK FOR FELLOWSHIP

The more than 1,300 units of the Young Women's Christian Association in the United States, including the Gettysburg Association, will join YWCAs of 64 other countries November 13-19 in the annual observance of World Fellowship Week. Mrs. M. Milton Wagner, chairman of the World Fellowship Committee, announced today.

This year, as for nearly 60 years, YWCA members around the world will dedicate themselves to prayers for peace and for better understanding among all peoples, Mrs. Wagner said. The theme for the 1955 observance is "They Saw and Believed."

The traditional service in the Washington Cathedral in the nation's capital on November 13 will highlight the nationwide observance, which comes as YWCAs throughout the United States continue celebration of the 100th anniversary of the YWCA's founding in London in 1855. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, president of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, will be the speaker at the Washington service.

Universal Participation
YWCA representatives from all parts of the United States will participate in the service which will be based on the week's theme and will also commemorate the association's centennial.

In Washington, a gift-bearing ceremony will be a high point of the Cathedral service. Y-Teens, representing the 48 states, Alaska and Hawaii, will present World Fellowship contributions made by members of the YWCA of the United States to carry forward the foreign program of the association. The YWCA currently has 17 American advisory secretaries on duty in countries abroad, and during the year 41 young women leaders and students from foreign lands were aided by the YWCA and friends of the association in study and on-the-job training in community associations.

Another special feature of the Washington program this year linking the World Fellowship activity with the founding in London will be a reception at the British Embassy following the Cathedral service. OFFICERS ARE NOMINATED BY LOCAL FIREMEN

Plans for the annual public Thanksgiving turkey party November 18 at the engine house were outlined Wednesday evening at a meeting of the Gettysburg Fire Department in the firemen's room at the engine house.

Chester Small, general chairman, reported all in readiness for the annual event which helps raise money for the apparatus fund of the fire department. He asked assistance of the members in "setting up and taking down" the tables, chairs, etc., for the party.

Much of the meeting was devoted to nomination of officers to be elected next month. Those nominated included: President, Richard M. Cole and Billy Shealer; vice president, Harold Culp and John Codori; recording secretary, Eugene Cickles and S. C. Smith; financial secretary, Donald Hammers and Frank Groft; treasurer, Paul B. Fox and Robert Hartman; chief, Donald W. McSherry and Frank Linn; first assistant chief, Donald Staub, Billy Shealer and Harold Heiges; second assistant chief, Frank Linn, Fred Myers, Donald Jacobs and Glenn Weishaar; chaplain, Eugene Miller, Donald Myers and Robert Shriver; equipment foreman, Donald Myers, Rufus Reaver and Robert Shultz; delegate to the Southeastern Firemen's Association, Richard C. Cole and Thomas Cole.

Abandon Dystrophy Drive
After a lengthy discussion the department voted against participation in the nation-wide muscular dystrophy drive which is to be conducted by fire companies during Thanksgiving week. Lack of time to prepare for a drive and the number of local campaigns in progress were given as reasons for not participating in this year's campaign.

The firemen decided to insist on a "no smoking rule" for other organizations using the firemen's room. To prevent damage to the new floor when it was placed in the firemen's meeting room several years ago, the firemen enforced a strict "no smoking" rule for its own meetings. Wednesday night, following discovery of several burns on the floor which Vice President Harold Culp said were caused by carelessly dropped cigarettes at meetings of other groups there, the firemen voted to notify other groups of the ban.

Philip M. Jones was elected a member of the fire department. The resignation of Jacob Yingling, who has moved to Westminster, was accepted with regret.

County women who wish to attend various sessions of the state session are asked to notify Mrs. Howard Sheffer. Some women plan to attend an "open house" and tea Sunday afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock at the council headquarters, 806 N. Second St., Harrisburg.

Tuesday morning the Adams County group will present a token donation of $25 to the state council.

The group heard a report from Dr. Clarence Bartholomew who investigated the need for a speech therapy. Since the beginning of the school year, the county has had the services of two speech therapists. Tractor-Trailer And School Buses Crash

Two school buses, one parked, and a tractor-trailer collided in a parking lot at the Paul Wolf garage, York Springs, this morning at 7:05 o'clock. Damage totalled $190.

State police, who investigated, said Boyd C. Darr, 40, York Springs, was headed north on the Harrisburg Rd. near the garage after delivering a bus load of passengers and started to turn in to Paul's Garage.

J. Richard Stine, 25, Harvey's Lake Rd. 1, was headed north and had just started to pass the bus when Darr turned the bus in to the parking lot at the garage. Bus and trailer both swung to the left and went into the lot to strike a parked bus owned by Paul Wolf.

Most of the damage, $150, occurred to the bus being operated by Darr. Investigation is being continued.

York Springs Tally Is 114 For Pittenturf

The total vote for Pittenturf was correct as stated in The Times at 7,274.

H. S. ADDITION IS DEDICATED ON WEDNESDAY

"We are here tonight to dedicate a new addition to the high school; rather, it is — to recall the words of one who stood so near that someone standing here might throw a baseball almost to that spot — it is for us to be dedicated," Dr. Harry F. Baughman said in the dedicatory address at the Gettysburg Junior-Senior High School Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Some 1,200 people gathered in the new auditorium to hear Dr. Baughman, president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, speak on the subject "A Million Dollar Log."

"An educational institution, according to a widely quoted definition, 'is Mark Hopkins on one end of a log and a student on the other.' What the author of that quip meant may be variously conjectured. He may have meant it to be a compliment specifically to the voluminous knowledge and effective teaching capacity of Mark Hopkins. Wherever Mark Hopkins is teaching there is an educational institution. He may have meant it as a sarcastic thrust. Or he may have meant it as a pungent way of saying that in the educational process only personality is important. Bringing together a good teacher and a serious student and even a log may be an institution of learning," Baughman said.

Education Must Progress
"What has been done here and is now being dedicated seems far enough removed from that concept of education. For here we are dedicating a million dollar log. We are saying in effect that an educational institution is NOT Mark Hopkins on one end of a log and a student on the other. Education today — and for tomorrow — must progress far beyond that 'log concept.' For where that simple definition held sway life itself was comparatively simple. How complex life has become.

"Simply to equip people for life in this complex world, a log is not sufficient. That concept of the educational process is not adequate. We live in a changing society of increasing complexity. The little brick schoolhouse has passed to be replaced by the modern educational plant.

"Yet an educational institution is Mark Hopkins on one end of a log and a student on the other for we can never dispense with the value of personality. Some of the finest forces in life are personal forces. The life of our society is not only influenced by million dollar logs and other material things. Such a life is like a rotting oak. Something goes wrong where no one can see, and the decay works until the seemingly sturdy oak falls before the wind. The material things can be the worst threat to us. We must never rest, feeling that we have arrived. We must hold fast to that which is significant in Mark Hopkins. The only thing to prevent the weakening of our civilization from within is the individual."

ANNUAL JAYCEE ESSAY CONTEST ON DEMOCRACY

The Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring its third annual "Voice of Democracy" contest during November with the assistance of Miss Ruth McIlhenny, high school English teacher. 25 students in grades 10-12 are preparing essays entitled "I Speak For Democracy" to be submitted November 11 to six judges: English teachers Edwin Longenecker, Jacob Sheads, Robert Fidler, Miss Ruth McIlhenny, James Feather, and Mrs. Luther Wisler, who will name the six best papers on November 13. A point grading system will be used throughout the national contest. William Lentz is chairman of the local Jaycee chapter.

Six winning students will tape record their speeches at WGET November 21, the speeches being identified by number rather than by the student's name. On November 22 three judges will select one to be heard over WGET in a 15-minute broadcast. P. H. Cunningham, manager of WGET, will supervise the recording.

The winner of the local contest will receive a $25 Savings Bond and various prizes from the local merchants. The winning recording will be sent to the state contest to be judged on content, enunciation, and delivery.

Excellent Prizes
The state winner will receive a four-year scholarship, TV set, and an expense paid trip to the national elimination.

On the national level the U. S. Office of Education, part of the Department of Health and Education, and the National Association of Secondary School Principals sponsor the state winners. The four national winners will be presented to President Eisenhower and will lunch with cabinet members. Last year the national winners appeared on Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town."

Nearly one million U. S. high school students are preparing essays for this ninth annual Junior Chamber of Commerce "Voice of Democracy" contest. Also sponsoring the contest are the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters and the Radio-Electronics-Television Manufacturers Association.

HIGH COURT TO HEAR NELSON CASE REVERSAL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The American Civil Liberties Union said today it has told the U. S. Supreme Court that personal freedom will be in safe hands if the federal government has exclusive power to punish sedition.

The group said it took that position in a friend-of-the-court brief presented to the high tribunal in the Steve Nelson case, scheduled for argument in Washington Nov. 15.

The case tests the Pennsylvania Supreme Court decision that the state Sedition Act is invalid because the federal government has superseded it with the Smith Act.

Enormous Importance

"The case is of enormous importance," said Spencer Cox, area executive director of the ACLU. "To allow the states to prosecute under their own sedition acts is to invite wholesale abridgment of freedom of speech and the press. This has indeed been the case. Recent prosecutions for subversion in Pennsylvania, Kentucky, and elsewhere have resulted largely on evidence of books read, of statements made, of meetings attended, rather than on evidence of overt acts."

"If the U. S. Supreme Court affirms the judgment of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, the sedition acts of 37 other states will be invalidated. This will be a major step forward."

Many Briefs Filed

Friend of the court briefs attacking the Pennsylvania Supreme Court decision have been filed by U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell and the attorneys-general of 27 interested states, as well as the American Legion.

Nelson, western Pennsylvania Communist party leader, was convicted in 1952 by a lower court in Pittsburgh for violating the Pennsylvania Sedition Act. Evidence included his membership and official position in the Communist Party, and his attendance at party meetings.

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court reversed his conviction in January, 1954, by a 4-1 decision, on the grounds that the state Sedition Act, originally passed in 1919, was superseded by the Smith Act, enacted by Congress in 1940. The commonwealth of Pennsylvania appealed this decision to the U. S. Supreme Court.

HAILS PLAN TO REVEAL APPEALS ON INCOME TAX

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Moss (D-Calif.) today hailed as "real progress" a Treasury Department move to make public the applications of organizations seeking income tax exemption.

Moss, chairman of a government operations subcommittee investigating federal information practices, told newsmen the Treasury decision indicated "we've made a few small dents" in government secrecy.

Treasury Undersecretary H. Chapman Rose told the committee yesterday the Treasury will ask Congress for authority to make public the requests for tax-exempt status. The applications list the aims and organizational details of the groups seeking the special tax treatment.

Treasury informants said it has not yet been decided whether to ask also for authority to make public the tax returns of the exempt groups. The returns, required even though the organizations don't pay taxes, show how the groups spend their money.

Seeks More Answers
The committee also wanted to know why the Treasury won't give out its reasons for negotiated settlements of income tax cases and for approving mergers of national banks.

Ray M. Gidney, comptroller of the currency, defended the present practice of official secrecy on "tentative" proposed mergers of national banks until his office gives final approval, and all conditions are met by the bank directors.

Abe McGregor Goff, the Post Office solicitor, declined to testify publicly about the U. S. postal ban on foreign Communist publications. He said the State Department had asked him not to talk about this until after the Big Four foreign ministers' conference at Geneva.

He said the agency is "not going to withhold information unless there is some clear public interest" in doing so.

CHINA GIVEN U. S. WARNING ON FORMOSA

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
GENEVA (AP)—U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson told Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan here today that a Red offer to renounce force would not be satisfactory to the United States unless it specifically applied to Formosa and other Nationalist-held islands.

Johnson, it was reliably reported, delivered the American reply to the Chinese offer during the ambassadors' 25th meeting.

Wang last week told Johnson that Red China was ready to accept the nonaggression obligations of the U. N. charter without demanding simultaneous recognition as a U. N. member. This offer left Formosa unprotected. Red China considers Formosa Chinese territory not an international matter.

Positions Are Closer

Despite the familiar difficulties of negotiating with the Chinese Communists, diplomatic officials feel that the Chinese and American positions are gradually coming closer together.

Nevertheless, officials say, a meeting between Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Red Chinese Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai—which is one of Wang's principal objectives in the talks—is still a long way off.

The American view is that a genuine Red renunciation of force against Formosa is one of the basic conditions for any Chou-Dulles meeting.

ALERT CHILDREN TO BEWARE OF BLACK WIDOWS SCHOOL REPORT IS PRESENTED BY PRINCIPAL

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
The Associated Press

Spiders will bite human beings if they are disturbed when they're hungry. The bite of most spiders is painful but not serious. However there is one type of spider, the black widow, whose bite is very serious — so serious that it may cause death.

It's a good idea to know about this most poisonous spider so that you can avoid him.

Black widow spiders are found in practically every part of the United States. They are more abundant in the south than in the north.

The spider seldom enters houses but is frequently found in basements, garages, sheds, outdoor toilets, culverts. It is often to be found under rocks, in hollow logs, in partly rotted wooden fence posts.

The web of the black widow looks rather different from that of most spiders. It is loosely woven, irregular and made up of coarse strands. It looks like a pulled out ball of cotton and lacks the lacy pattern of other spider webs.

Three or four hundred eggs are laid at a time and placed inside a dense whitish silken ball the size of a large pea. The eggs hatch in 3-4 weeks and the tiny spiders scatter over the web.

The female black widow spider is a shiny jet black on the upper surface of the body. On the underside there is a characteristic red mark shaped like an hour glass. There may be one or more red spots near the tip of the body. The body of the fullgrown female is about 1/2 inch long. Male black widows are smaller. Young spiders and adult males have yellowish markings on the upper part of the body.

The bite of the black widow spider causes a stinging sensation. It leaves a tiny red spot on the skin which is often surrounded by a whitish area. Within a few minutes to an hour there is a sharp pain in the region of the bite and there may be some swelling. The aching pain spreads up the body and finally reaches the chest and the abdomen. The abdomen becomes rigid, breathing becomes forced and irregular, sometimes there are convulsions of the whole body. The heart rate becomes slow and irregular.

In case of a bite from a black widow spider, put an ice pack over the spot. If the bite is on an arm or leg, put a tourniquet around the limb above the bite. A tourniquet is any kind of a band that can be pulled tight. It should be tight enough to almost stop the circulation.

Whenever a tourniquet is used, it is most important to loosen it from time to time. The object is to slow the absorption of poisonous material from the bite. But circulation must not be completely cut off for more than a few minutes at a time or serious damage may be done to the nerves. Loosen the tourniquet then tighten it again every 3 minutes.

If you have a black widow spider bite call your doctor immediately. If you have trouble locating him right away do not delay but go to the hospital as soon as you can. If it is some distance away, tell the hospital that you have had a bite from a black widow so they can have the serum ready. The sooner you get the serum the better, of course.

Look around your house and yard and destroy black widows if you find them. Remove loose brick, wood, boards or trash where spiders may live or hide. Spray areas where you find spiders with a one per cent DDT solution.

OFFERS SAFETY TIPS TO PREVENT BABY ACCIDENTS

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
The Associated Press

Accidents kill more children after infancy than does any single disease.

During the first year your baby needs absolute protection. He cannot yet take any responsibility for his own safety.

Babies wiggle. A brand new baby cannot wiggle enough to turn himself over or to move very far from the spot where you put him down.

So you become accustomed to leaving him on his dressing table while you answer the phone or run into the next room to get the can of powder.

Advances Rapidly

But it's only a few short weeks before he can give a heave and get himself over. Then one day you hear a thud, and if you're lucky you immediately hear a low bellow. (The louder and quicker your baby yells after a fall the less likely it is he has done himself real harm).

You thought he couldn't get over the edge, but he fooled you. He's developing faster than you think.

Never, never leave your baby for a single minute on a high place from the time you bring him home from the hospital.

Don't even leave him in the middie of a big double bed. Maybe you think such precautions are silly—"Of course he couldn't get to the edge of the bed" you say. But babies do. And every year several hundred babies suffer fractured skulls from just such an accident. Don't let it be your baby.

It's a good idea to get a play pen early—by the second month at least. By this age your baby will have longer and longer waking periods when he'll want to play. Maybe he's not yet ready for many toys but he'll want to kick and wiggle and thrash around and squall. You will need a safe place for these activities. You can put him on a blanket on the floor. He can't fall off the floor! However he soon can roll off the blanket and maybe hit himself against a table leg, or even knock a lamp over onto himself. A play pen is safe.

Crib Is Safe

You can use the crib for this early play. The crib at least is safe. It does however have other disadvantages. We want our baby to think of his crib as a place to sleep. If you put him into his crib sometimes to sleep and sometimes to play he is confused. He'll develop better sleep habits if he only goes into the crib when he's ready to sleep.

Speaking of cribs and safety—always pull up the side of the crib when you put your baby into it. Before you know it he can pull himself up to the side and if it's low he can tumble right over onto the floor.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Served On First And Last Juries Under McPherson: Two members of the present November panel of petit jurors serving under Judge Donald P. McPherson at his last regular session of Adams county courts were on the panel at his first session of court in January 1936. They are James W. Culp, Gettysburg battlefield guide, and William Resser, East Berlin tinner. Judge McPherson will return from the bench December 31 and will be succeeded by W. Clarence Sheely, Esq., of Gettysburg.

Twenty-five Justices Of The Peace Were Elected For Six-Year Terms In Gettysburg And Adams County In Last Tuesday's General Election: The official count for the three candidates for the two positions of justice of the peace in Gettysburg shows that John H. Baschore, running on both the republican and democratic tickets, emerged with a total of 2,394 votes. Justice of the Peace John C. Shealer, republican, was elected with a total of 1,650 votes.

New Altitude Record Set By Stratosphere Balloon: Rapid City, S. D., November 10 (AP) — Captain Albert W. Stevens reported the stratosphere balloon had reached 14,000 feet setting a new unofficial world altitude record, surpassing even the mark set in 1934 by the three Russian fliers.

Arthur Bair, President Of Bankers' Unit: Arthur E. Bair, cashier of the Littlestown National Bank, was elected president of the Adams County Bankers association at the annual dinner meeting at Graefenhain Inn. He succeeds W. M. Weidner, York Springs.

White Sparrow: Adams county is becoming famous for its different varieties of English sparrows, those little birds so troublesome to the gardener. Mrs. Mabel Shelling, Oak Ridge, found a new-born sparrow near her home. She took the little bird into her home, fed it, gave it water and nursed it along. Placing it in an abandoned canary bird case Mrs. Shelling fed it bird seed highly recommended for warbling canaries. Now the sparrow sings and warbles almost as well as a canary.

John McIlhenney, who resides on his farm, a short distance north of here on the Harrisburg road, tells of a snow-white sparrow in a flock of regularly-colored sparrows which fly around the buildings at his home. Mr. McIlhenney would like to have the albino canary as a pet, but thus far has been unable to get near enough to throw salt on the bird's tail.

James Wesley Bodley, Retired Superintendent Of Cemetery, Expires: James Wesley Bodley, retired superintendent of the Gettysburg National Cemetery, civil war veteran, former wagon and garage builder and life-long advocate of prohibition, died at Gallinger hospital, Washington, D. C., at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon of infirmities. Had he lived until November 17 he would have observed his ninety-third birthday.

$94,230 Spent On Improving Hospital Here: How the Annie M. Warner Hospital has been enlarged and the ground beautified and how its equipment has been added to and modernized in the last 13 years was explained by Miss Martha McKay, superintendent, in a report read at a dinner meeting of the hospital board of directors at the Hotel Gettysburg, Friday evening. Since Miss McKay assumed the superintendency in September 1922, $61,887.82 has been spent in improvements to the hospital, its equipment grounds.

Besides that amount, which is exclusive of the cost of the nurses home, $18,538, the Thursday Bridge club paid $2,385.64 toward the purchase of electrical apparatus and the hospital auxiliary spent $11,328.91 for improving the maternity ward, the nursery, the delivery room and improvements to the kitchen, hallways and office.

Today's Talk

DIGNITY

You can't succeed in insulting a genuinely dignified person. The fortress of such a one is too heavily armored! The late William Allen White was a great character. Many years ago, in his Emporia Gazette, he wrote an editorial that the wife of the man that White had written about didn't like. So she went after him on the street one day and horse-whipped him! White did nothing about it. He contended that she was in her rights, and besides he had too much dignity to abuse a woman! Did you ever notice a big dog going down a street with a lot of little dogs barking at his heels? The dignity of that big dog is something to bear in mind. He pays no attention to his little barkers. Many years ago Senator Charles Sumner was brutally assaulted in the Senate of the United States. He was a big, powerful man who could easily have beaten his assailant but he had too much dignity to do so, even though the attack hastened his death!

President Woodrow Wilson once stated that a nation could be "too proud to fight." I have always felt that this famous statement was never accurately interpreted. What I felt he really meant was that a nation could be too right and dignified to enter into a brutal war without just cause. Even Winston Churchill once said that the last World War could have been prevented. There is nothing dignified about war. It is contrary to every Christian law of life.

Nature is full of dignity. You think of this as you view those mammoth redwoods in California. I shall never forget my first view of these towering, dignified kings of the forest. You unconsciously salute them. They have nobility and grandeur. But everywhere in Nature dignity is noted from the tiniest flower to the highest mountain peak. The spiritual in us is aroused as we think upon that statement by Joyce Kilmer that "only God can make a tree!"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "My Friends" Protected, 1955, By The George Matthews Adams Service

Just Folks

THE TWINKLE
Just keep the twinkle in the eye.
The chin well up above the tie.
And hide your cares from all you know.
And you'll be welcome where you go.

In hospitals the sufferers groan
And they have every right to moan.
But if the body still is stout
Be glad that you can walk about.

Be glad and grateful you can meet
With friends at home or on the street.
Don't spout with sighs and visage sour
What ought to be a joyous hour.

It's difficult to suffer pain
And pleasant company remain.
But oh! it's much worth while to try
To keep the twinkle in the eye.

Errol Flynn Estate

Sold For $1,988.62

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Errol Flynn's seven-acre estate and 30-room mansion were auctioned for $1,988.62 yesterday to satisfy a court judgment against the actor. But Flynn, now in Spain, has a year in which to pay the $1,988.62 and recover the Hollywood Hills property estimated to be worth $350,000.

Deputy County Marshal Dan Johnson said only one bid was received. The property was acquired, temporarily at least, by J. N. Benson, La Jolla, Calif., on a telegraphed bid.

The judgment was obtained by Robert, George H. and Thomas McElwaine Jr. on their claim Flynn owed them $1,500 for publicity work on a film he made in France five years ago. The $1,988.62 represents the judgment plus interest and costs.

Following the dedicatory address, Dr. Ralph D. Helm, professor of religious education, Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, offered the dedicatory prayer. The high school choir hummed their Alma Mater as Dr. Helm prayed.

"We would return thanks for this choice, new building and place it under Thy loving care. We wish to beseech, too, Thy divine aid for the development of men and women, who, because they have been schooled here, will serve better Thy purposes in their world."

Asks Eternal Blessing
"We thank Thee that Thou didst put the clay, the stone and the metals upon the earth; and that Thou didst move and sustain the planners, the workmen and citizens who provided this structure. Receive now, with Thy eternal blessing, the work of these hands and minds and spirits as they dedicate it to Thy cause."

Dr. Wickham then introduced members of the Gettysburg School Authority and other attending school officials. After the National Anthem, the Rev. Charles Held, pastor, Mt. Joy Lutheran parish, gave the benediction. The band provided music as the guests departed on guided tours of the entire school building. The PTA served refreshments in the cafeteria to the 1,400 guests.

Strike Out Third Man Spy Charges

LONDON (AP)— A Laborite member of Parliament today withdrew his accusation that Harold Philby, former British diplomat, was the "third man" who tipped off spies Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean that they were under investigation. Lt. Col. Marcus Lipton told the House of Commons that after ner stuff of the personality. It is for us to be dedicated," Baughman said.

The senior high school 50-piece band played several selections as the guests assembled in the new auditorium. At 7:30 p.m. Robert Zeigler, director, led the band in "Fandango." The Rev. Mr. Robert Knechel, pastor, Church of the Brethren, gave the following invocation: "We give Thee thanks for the stone, the brick, and the materials used in building an edifice conducive to the education of our children. We ask for Thy presence here in this place."

Senior Choir Sings
The 70-voice senior high school choir, robed in maroon gowns with white rabats and tasseled stoles, was conducted by Paul Grove, director, in "Father Most Holy" and "Your Land and My Land." Miss Shirley Kennell, high school senior, was the piano accompanist.

Dr. R. D. Wickerham, president of the Gettysburg Joint School Board, presiding, introduced R. S. Noonan, general contractor, and J. Alfred Hamme, architect. Noonan said, "It has been a pleasure for our company to build this school addition in Gettysburg. It is always a pleasure to do work here. I want to pay tribute to Fred Shive and Sterling Staumbaugh, superintendents of the work, and to all the workers for a fine job." He then presented the key of the building to Hamme who passed it to Dr. Wickerham in the presentation of the building. Wickerham accepted the key and building in the name of the joint board for "the educational and social interests of the students."

Also participating in the acceptance were Arthur Hutchison, Gettysburg Joint School Authority; Dr. L. C. Keefe, superintendent of schools, and G. W. Lefever, principal of the high school.

Special Gifts Received
The following special gifts were received on behalf of the high school by Principal Lefever: Grand piano, presented by the Alumni Association, Mrs. Edith Baker, past president; two upright pianos by the Class of '54, JoAnn Sherman, secretary; two trophy cases, Class of '51, Fred Herring, president; school flag, Senior Student Council, Ann Holoka, president; bulletin board, Junior Student Council, Margaret Teeter, president; American flag, Manor of Maske Chapter, Daughters of the Colonists, Miss Elsie Eisenhart; and lectern and chairs for stage, Parent-Teachers Association, Mrs. Donald Sheely.

Following the dedicatory address, Dr. Ralph D. Helm, professor of religious education, Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, offered the dedicatory prayer. The high school choir hummed their Alma Mater as Dr. Helm prayed.

Strike Ties Up PARIS AIRPORTS

PARIS (AP)— A strike of safety service employees today paralyzed Paris' two big airports. Foreign airlines had to cancel their flights or divert them to airports outside France.

The strike was called by 3,600 radar station and control tower operators. Pan American World Airways diverted its Paris-bound flights to Brussels while Transworld Airlines operated from Basel, Switzerland. Passengers were being brought to Paris by train.

Most other foreign air companies canceled their flights. Air Force called off most of its short flights and diverted long distance flights to the military airport of Bretigny, about 25 miles south of Paris.

A spokesman for the British European Airways said all BEA flights in France were canceled this morning.

The strikers are asking for a 10,000 franc — $28.57 — monthly bonus on salaries averaging 40,000 francs.

Further study he "was satisfied Mr. Philby was not the person who warned Burgess or Maclean or engaged in dubious third man activities."

Lipton had made the accusation in a question in the House Oct. 25. Philby challenged Lipton to make the charge outside Parliament where it could be met legally on grounds of libel or slander.

He said the accusation was based on "comment and gossip."

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Private funeral services will be held for A. Ransaville Frome, retired general manager of the Campbell Soup Co. who died in Atlantic City Hospital yesterday at the age of 79.

The cause of death was listed as a cerebral hemorrhage. Frome retired in 1929 after more than 30 years with the soup firm in Camden. He had worked his way up to one of the top executive positions.

Among survivors are two sons, Leighton W. of Collingswood, and A. Ransaville Jr., of Camden; two daughters, Miss Dorothy Parke Frome of New York City and Mrs. Margaret Farrell of Middletown, Pa.

Following the private funeral services he will be buried at Harleigh Cemetery in Camden.

an easy one. It was not easy before the war and it is not easy now. However," she said, "the young Japanese woman of today walks beside her husband and not behind him as her mother did 20 years ago. Mixing with western civilization during World War II has taught her a lot of things and it has given her a little more freedom."

"No matter how difficult life is for the Oriental woman," said Mrs. Wagner, "she always manages to find something beautiful in everything. Wallpaper is fancy with birds and flowers and even the ordinary bath towel is decorated with village scenes and the beauty of nature. When a woman can always discover the loveliness about her the rest of the world need not worry about her. We can learn a lot from the Japanese woman."

The program concluded with the singing of a Japanese song by Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Haehnlen accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Webster. Mr. and Mrs. Haehnlen and their son plan to visit Japan in January. The tea table was decorated with a vase of red-berried multiflora on a bamboo table mat. Mrs. Frank Kramer and Mrs. Henry Scharf poured. The hostesses were: Mrs. Victor K. Meredith Jr., Mrs. James G. Sneeringer, Mrs. Robert Kenworthy, Mrs. Philip Noble, Mrs. George Gilbert, Mrs. Paul Zeger, Mrs. Robert Wills, Mrs. Paul B. Ramer and Mrs. William Seabrook.

STRIKE HUNGER STRIKE A STUNT

BOSTON (AP)— Massachusetts Correction Commissioner Russell G. Oswald today continued to ignore the state prison hunger strike, declaring he would not permit the prisoners to "intimidate me."

Oswald termed as "publicity-seekers" the 16 prisoners who began the hunger strike yesterday and said:

"I will not see them so long as they are behaving irresponsibly. I will see them as soon as I can without giving them priority. I am not going to permit them to intimidate me."

In Office Nine Days
Oswald, who has been in office only nine days, said he had learned the prisoners planned to "do something sensational to attract attention and to force my hand to get me there to talk with those three men involved in the riot of last January."

He said the hunger strike is led by murderer Fritz Swenson, rapist-robbler Joseph A. Flaherty and armed robber Walter H. Balben. Those three, with bank robber Theodore "Teddy" Green, held six guards hostage for 84 hours last January in a futile attempt to escape. Green is now in Alcatraz.

LOSE FINAL GAME
The Gettysburg College junior varsity field hockey team lost its first game as it closed its season here Wednesday against Lebanon Valley, the visitors triumphing 3-1. Marie Leonard scored the Bulletes' lone goal in the first half. Previously the locals had won four straight.

The value of the state-by-state distribution listed by the Health, Education and Welfare Department today included New Jersey $1,179,953, and Pennsylvania $3,301,563.

OFFICIAL LOWERS NO WORK, NO EAT BOOM ON MEN

LONDON, Ohio (AP)— A sitdown strike of inmates at London Prison Farm has spread and 1,100 men of a population of 1,700 now are involved, Corrections Commissioner M. C. Koblenz said today.

So far there has been no violence. The strike over alleged failure of prison officials to give proper credit to inmates for work performed triggered the strike yesterday.

Six Are Involved
At first, Koblenz said, only one dormitory housing 233 inmates was involved. But today, five other dormitories joined in the no-work move.

Supt. R. B. Eckle has asked each of the dormitories to send a committee to confer with him.

So far, Eckle reported, he has talked with one committee and another committee is being formed. Koblenz said penal officials have no information on the formation of other committees.

Promised Investigation
"We hope that the attorney general will give the fullest cooperation to his promised investigation of the prison, even though the election is now over."

On Monday, state Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen said he has "numerous affidavits" from residents of Delaware County which indicate "the existence of a loosely run prison which apparently permits gambling, drinking and other illegal activities."

He said he plans to seek the cooperation of the Welfare Department for what he termed a "thorough investigation" of Broadmeadows. The Delaware County prison is under the Bureau of Penal Affairs in the Welfare Department.

FORD NAMES 7 TO SELL SHARES

NEW YORK (AP)— Seven investment firms have been named by the Ford Foundation to handle the public offering of shares in the Ford Motor Co. early next year.

Sales of the 6,952,293 shares will represent the largest offering in history of securities in an industrial firm.

Blyth & Co. will act as chairman of the co-managers of the underwriting group. Other members are First Boston Corp.; Goldman, Sachs & Co.; Kuhn Loeb & Co.; Lehman Brothers; Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, and White, Weld & Co.

Announcing selection of the underwriters last night, Foundation President H. Rowan Gaither Jr. observed that a major objective in arranging the offering "is to achieve the widest possible distribution of the shares to the public."

The co-managers are expected to name between 300 and 400 other firms to participate in the underwriting. In addition, the shares will be sold by hundreds of brokerage firms throughout the country.

Eisenhower Favors Economic Aid For Middle East But Is Opposed To Helping Arms Race

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower has focused the United States search for Middle Eastern peace once more on economic aid and a military willingness to guarantee security.

At the same time, he emphasized yesterday that while the United States will continue to consider requests for arms for self defense, it will not "contribute to an arms competition in the Near East."

Stepping personally into foreign policy affairs for the first time since he fell ill last September, the President issued a statement at Denver renewing his endorsement of "the economic and security contributions which this country was prepared to make," as outlined by Secretary of State Dulles last Aug. 26.

Dulles' Proposal
In a New York speech, Dulles proposed then:

1. Loans to compensate refugees, develop water resources and irrigate arid lands in the middle east.

2. U.S. participation in formal treaty commitments to guarantee the embattled borders between Israel and her Arab neighbors, if the two sides agree on a permanent peace.

Warriors To Invade Hanover, Littlestown Plays Delone In Final Grid Tilts Friday

Highway traffic is expected to be heavy Friday evening down Hanover way where the Gettysburg High Warriors meet the Nighthawks while Littlestown clashes with Delone in neighboring McSherrystown.

Both games are renewals of old gridiron rivalries and are certain to attract large crowds. Kickoffs for the games will be at 8 o'clock. With the exception of Hanover, all teams will be concluding their seasons with the games.

A total of 41 lads on the four county school squads will wind up their careers in the two games. Forty of the group are seniors while another, Joe Dearing, Gettysburg end, completes his eligibility this season.

The Gettysburg-Hanover engagement has taken on added interest since the "revival" of the Warrior squad several weeks ago. After getting off to a poor start with five losses and a tie in their first six games, the Warriors came back strong to whip Hershey and Waynesboro and yielded to unbeaten Carlisle after a bitter battle 19-6. A Gettysburg triumph in the final game would do much to heal the wounds of previous setbacks.

Hawks 8-1 For Season
Hanover, sporting an enviable 8-1 record, must be rated as a decided favorite. Under their new coach, Steve Padjen, the Hawks have lost only to Carlisle, 25-6, and must win to stay in contention for the South Penn title. The Hawks have a heavy, veteran squad which is spearheaded by Bob Forry and Norm Palmer, two of the league's top backs.

In addition to Dearing, the following Warrior seniors will be in uniform for the last time: Merle Gorman, Don Smith, David Weaver, Dale Biesacker, Roland Keller and Russell Potter, linemen; Fred Furney, Dick Stough, Glenn Weishaar, Forrest Stouck, Joe Tonsel and Tim Crouse, backs. Bob Bonduant, tackle, also a senior, has been out of action for several weeks due to injuries.

Three other South Penn tilts are listed for Friday. Carlisle can clinch the title by defeating invading Chambersburg. Mechanicsburg plays at Waynesboro, while Middletown is at Hershey.

Delone—Littlestown
A game which could well be billed as one for the Adams County title will be staged at McSherrystown where Littlestown, Laurel Conference champions, collide with Alex Bell's strong Delone squad. During the past season Littlestown downed Biglerville while Delone defeated Gettysburg.

Wib Gobrecht's Thunderbolts rolled six straight victories this year before dropping a one-point decision at Red Lion which snapped a 13-game winning streak for Littlestown. Last week the Bolts rebounded with a 40-0 triumph over Carson Long.

Delone has come up with the best team since Coach Bell had his first tour of duty there. The Squires have a 5-2-1 record against stiff opposition and must be given a slight pre-game rating over the Bolts. Last year Littlestown triumphed 13-7.

15 Seniors Bow Out
Fifteen lads, all seniors, will conclude their scholastic careers in the game.

Five are from Littlestown. They include Jim Zulick, Leonard Potter and Tom Gouker, all backs, and Dave Bucher and Robert Orndorff, guards.

Ten wind up their duties with Delone, including Bob McMaster, Mike Brady, Ben Ditzler, Dick Smith, Allen Liversberger, Carroll Funk, Don McKendrick, "Skip" Neiderer, Burnell Bevenour and Johnny Washington.

Biglerville—Kennard Dale
Biglerville High waits until Saturday evening to bring down the curtain on its campaign. Kennard Dale will be the opponent on the Cannons' field at 8 o'clock.

Unless the Cannons are victims of over-confidence, they should win handily. Kennard-Dale is winless in the Laurel Conference and has an overall season record of one triumph against seven defeats.

On the other hand Biglerville has shown increasing strength recently, turning in its best performance with a 51-14 decision over Dallas-town last Saturday. Coach Bill Coradetti's outfit has a mark of 4-4.

An even dozen Cannons will be performing in their final game. They include Maynard Gochenauer, Phil Stoner, Paul Howerly, Ronnie Koonz, Ed McGlaughlin, Ken Pitzer, Don Rentez, Wallace Rice, Ray Schwartz, Eugene Shaffer, Pete Weigle and Dick Wickline.

Hershey Bears Are Defeated Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Even the hat trick doesn't help the Hershey Bears these days in the American Hockey League.

Stan Parker rammed three goals home for the Bears last night, but the Pittsburgh Hornets still came off with a 7-5 victory.

It was the only game scheduled and pulled the Hornets within two points of second place Buffalo and three short of first place Providence. The Bears, in last place, now have won only 2 of 11.

Parker made his third goal an unassisted score to tie the count at 5-5 midway through the third period. But Jack Caffrey and Parker MacDonald then wrapped it up for the Hornets.

TWO RESERVES WILL START FOR NAVY SATURDAY

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—A pair of young halfbacks who have seen only limited action in reserve roles this year get their first chance Saturday as starters on the Navy football team.

Injuries to the two durable first stringers paved the way for the debut of Ed Malyun, a 170-pound junior from Oakland, Calif., and Paul Guber, a 160-pound junior from Buck Run, Pa., when Navy meets Columbia at Baker Field in New York.

They were beaten out earlier this season for starting jobs by Chet Burchett, a junior, and Ned Oldham, a sophomore. Since then, injuries to each of them have forced them to even more limited action.

But both are sound now and were able to move up to the starting jobs when Oldham and Burchett were sidelined in a rough-and-tumble 7-7 tie with Duke last week.

Lauded By Coach
"Thank God they were ready," Coach Eddie Erdelatz said yesterday. "They're good backs and I think they'll do a fine job for us Saturday." Malyun and Guber, both juniors, turned in some sparkling play against Duke after injuries forced their appearance in the lineup. Their small size is offset by good speed and both are good pass receivers.

Guber has carried the ball only 12 times for 41 yards. Malyun has carried eight times for 38. Their lack of experience, however, may be felt mostly on defense as Navy attempts to throttle the aerial efforts of Columbia quarterback Claude Benham, ranked the No. 2 passer in the nation.

7-FOOT CAGER PLAYS NEXT WEEK

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, an amazing 7-foot Philadelphia high school basketball product, evidently will start breaking records even before he takes his first public shot as a college player.

Chamberlain, whom Phog Allen calls the choicest catch of his long coaching career, makes his debut in the midlands next week—and attendance records are expected to tumble.

The Negro athlete will play as a freshman in the annual Kansas varsity-freshman basketball game Nov. 18. The game will draw close to 10,000—possibly an all-time national mark for such an event. In recent years the varsity-freshman game has drawn around 1,500.

Allen rates The Stilt as even a better prospect than Clyde Lovellette, now a star of the pro Minneapolis Lakers who led Kansas to the NCAA championship in 1952.

"The freshmen will be very tough to beat," Allen said. "Wilt could team with two Phi Beta Kappas and two co-eds and give us a battle."

214 Trotters Are Sold For $576,050

HARRISBURG (AP)—The standard bred horse sale went over the million dollar mark at the earliest stage in its 17-year history when 214 trotters and pacers were sold for $576,050 yesterday.

Third-day sales raised the total to $1,152,769 or 621 head, an average of $1,856 per horse. The best previous three days for the auction were last year when 578 head brought $944,275. The sale continues through Friday.

Two yearlings by the $500,000 sire Adios topped yesterday's session with Adios Pick going for $24,000 to trainer-driver Billy Haughton, Massapequa, N.Y., and Adios Express going for $21,000 to Sol Camp, Shafter, Calif.

Both yearlings were consigned by Meadowlands Farm, Meadowlands, Pa., which sold 20 head for $104,700. Hanover Shoe Farms, Hanover, Pa., offered 37 head which went for $70,000.

BAUGH SCOFFS GRAHAM CLAIM

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Sam Baugh, who was in professional football longer than any other man, says Otto Graham, the Cleveland Browns quarterback, "is away off base" in his complaint of dirty playing in the National Football League.

Graham, injured in the first half of last Sunday's game with the New York Giants, said football was getting "rougher and rougher" and unless something is done "it will get out of hand."

Baugh said he never felt like any lineman was trying to hit him "although I got slugged lots of times. They were supposed to knock me down and I felt like I ought to pat them on the back—they were just doing what they were supposed to do."

"I always made out like they did it accidentally when they really rack me although at times I knew differently. If you get up and give them a lot of talk they'll just come back harder next time and really 'clothes line' you. I knew darn well those guards and tackles were bigger and meaner than I was. If they set their cap to get you they'd darn sure do it."

Teams Battle For WPIAL Crown Friday; Carlisle Needs Win For SP Title

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Veterans Day weekend will see no armistice in Pennsylvania's scholastic football campaign as many teams clash in final games of the season.

The top game of the weekend will be the Friday encounter between Alliquippa and Ambridge for the crown of the rugged WPIAL. It is the last game for both.

Both are undefeated against league competition with Alliquippa ruling a slight favorite because it has played more WPIAL games and is 8-0-0 for the season.

An Ambridge win would give it six local victories, tying Mt. Lebanon which has won six WPIAL games. That would mean a playoff. However, if Ambridge and Alliquippa fight to a draw, Mt. Lebanon would have the title. A loss or a tie eliminates a club from contention for the title.

Rating Victims
In the east two undefeated teams go into their final games, but despite the records both may be victims of the Eastern Conference rating system.

MANY MENTORS UNEASY OVER LOSING TEAMS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

The football version of an old saying is: "Where there's smoke there's fire — and usually the coach is the one fired."

And this season there's a new way of raising the smoke clouds that indicate that the fans are turned up about losing. An effigy of the coach turns up dangling in some prominent place around the campus.

So far this fall Lynn Waldorf of California, Jess Hill of Southern California, Al Kirchner of Washington State, John Cherberg of Washington and Warren Woodson of Arizona, plus pro Coach Red Strader of the San Francisco 49ers, have been singled out for this strange kind of attention. They're all substantially built citizens and the malcontents probably thought it easier to hoist a dummy on a rope than to tackle them personally.

Discontent Elsewhere
In addition there have been definite indications of some discontent with the coaching of Missouri's Don Faurot, North Carolina's George Barclay, Baylor's George Sauer, Northwestern's Lou Saban and Florida's Bob Woodruff. In most cases it has been a petition of some sort asking for a change of coaches.

All this doesn't mean that the coaches so attacked are about to be fired. Most of them received encouraging words and promises of support from college presidents and athletic directors. Nor do these assurances always mean their jobs are safe. Football history shows a certain definite association between protests and coaching changes just like the one between smoke and fire.

Perhaps it's an indication of the difference between West Coast and East Coast football fans, but the losingest major college coach of all doesn't seem a bit worried about his job. That's Penn's Steve Sebo, whose teams have lost 16 straight games since he took over last year. Of course a few alumni and fans have begun to wonder out loud if it isn't about time for Steve to win a game, but most of them are strongly on his side.

BELAIR STUD MAY CONTINUE UNDER HANCOCK

NEW YORK (AP)—The famous Belair Stud, which has bred and raced many of the nation's greatest horses, including Nashua, will remain intact as a breeding interest if the executors of the estate of William Woodward Jr. accept the offer of Arthur B. Hancock Jr.

Young Woodward, who inherited the vast racing and breeding empire when his father died in 1953, was shot to death by his wife Oct. 30 when she said she mistook him for a prowler in their Long Island home.

"I have offered to take over the stallions and mares owned by Bill for 10 years until the oldest son, now 11—becomes of age," the son of the well known owner of Claiborne Stud at Paris, Ky., said today.

Worth $2 Million
Hancock was a close friend of Woodward and associate in the ownership of several stallions, including Nasrullah, sire of Nashua.

"I have made this offer because I believe a name as famous as Belair should remain a part of racing," he said.

Under the terms of Woodward's will, filed for probate yesterday, the Belair Stud is a part of the estate since the will was made before the 35-year-old Woodward inherited the racing stable and breeding stock.

Horsemen estimated the value of the Belair racing and breeding interests, including the 2,500-acre farm at Bowie, Md., in excess of two million dollars.

Except for the farm, on which are raised tobacco, corn and livestock, Nashua is the most valuable part of Belair. Several horsemen set the value of the great 3-year-old, who has won nearly a million dollars in two years, at $750,000.

The Belair Stud also includes six other horses under trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons at Aqueduct, 13 yearlings in the charge of Danny Shea at his Park, Md., Merryland Farm, 13 yearlings recently shipped from Kentucky to the Belair farm and some 20 mares at Claiborne Stud.

Nolan who was in third place last week moved up this week by scoring one TD in Lehigh's 39-0 win over VMI.

Gernsner, a newcomer to top scorers, took third place with three touchdowns for Moravian against Ursinus.

Geneva's Mike Karas failed to score for the second straight weekend and fell from second to fourth place. Seven TDs and a pair of conversions still leaves him with 44 points. Bob Ford of Bucknell and Harry Feinberg of Penn Military College, each with seven TDs for 42 points, are tied for fifth.

SAXTON READY FOR TITLE BOUT

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Johnny Saxton was set today for another shot at the welterweight championship he held for only six months.

The slick shooting Saxton, throwing left-handed darts all the way, sped to a unanimous decision over Ralph Jones last night in a 10-round bout. The verdict was never in doubt.

The word before the fight was that Saxton would get a date with the winner of the welterweight title bout Nov. 30 between champion Carmen Basilio and Tony De Marco. Saxton, who won the crown from Kid Gavilan, lost it less than six months later to De Marco.

Saxton gave away 10 pounds to Jones. The former welter titlist came in at 148½ pounds to Jones' 158½ and capitalized on his mobility to the fullest.

Under the 11-point California scoring system Referee Fred Apostoli had it 56½-53½. Judge Jack Downey 57-53 and Judge Eddie James 56-54. The Associated Press card showed 57-53.

Saxton used a rapid-fire left to annoy Jones, flicking it in his face, then crossing a right.

THOROUGHBREDS ARE READY FOR $65,000 RACE

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Laurel's course becomes the "Geneva" of the horse racing world tomorrow. The fourth meeting of the international thoroughbred set is the biggest both from the standpoint of the 13 equine participants and prospective crowd on the sidelines.

Horse delegates from the United States, Germany, England, Venezuela, France, Ireland and Canada are ready to take up the disposition of $65,000. The meeting of the most countries in one race will last between 2½ and 3 minutes around a mile and a half of Laurel's infield grass.

Further attesting to establishment of the International as one of the top sporting attractions has been response of the public. Laurel reports it has more requests for seat reservations than ever before and the clubhouse caterer that eating requests outnumber the Kentucky Derby.

"Plenty Of Dignity"
There will be plenty of dignity at the race with diplomats and government dignitaries galore. Tomorrow's event brings together four horses from the United States, two from Venezuela, England, and France, and one each from Germany, Canada and Ireland.

Social Outcast and Traffic Judge of the United States are expected to vie for the betting favoritism with countrymate Mister Gus likely to be next. The strongest foreign betting choices appear to be Ireland's Panassipper and England's Nucleus.

Completing the field are Aeschylus of the United States ataturk from Germany, El Chama and Prendase of Venezuela, Mahan and Picouda of France and Prefect of Canada.

Western Ranchers Have Hard Choice

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Ranchers of the West have spent a lot of money and effort getting rid of sagebrush. But two researchers from Oregon State College say that ranchers who kill sagebrush that doesn't have a good grass cover under it may be the victims of something even worse.

That's rabbitbrush, a hearty range perennial that moves in quickly when other vegetation is killed. Overgrazing, fire and cultivation have encouraged its spread until it has now become a major range threat in some areas. Cattle won't eat it.

W. W. Chilcote and C. E. Poulton, OSC range experts, say sage can keep rabbitbrush in check.

Republicans, Democrats Say Elections Were No Mandate To Stalemated Legislature

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republican and Democratic leaders agreed today that Tuesday's municipal elections in Pennsylvania provided no apparent mandate by the voters to the tax-stalemate legislature.

Speaker Andrews (D-Cambria) said he could find no indication in Tuesday's election returns of voter criticism of the politically divided General Assembly.

A similar sentiment was expressed by Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, who added that the municipal election was "determined pretty much" by local issues.

Democrats Make Gains
Democrats, however, seemed to have made the biggest gains in the local elections, upsetting such entrenched Republican regimes as those in Bucks, Franklin and Indiana counties.

Andrews told a newsman he believed the statewide picture should be "a source of satisfaction to the Leader administration," explaining:

"While the administration was properly not on trial, the voters in many key local contests went along with the Democrats. Had the reverse been true, it would have been construed as a direct slap at the administration."

No Vindications Or Repudiations
"I have seen no indication that the administration can claim a vindication or the opposition can claim a repudiation."

Horst, when queried by a newsman as to whether he thought the election brought out voter thinking on the Leader administration or on the actions of the 1955 Legislature, replied:

"I think this election was determined pretty much by local issues."

He said the closest test of sentiment on statewide issues came in a special election for a Luzerne County senatorial seat which saw a Republican victory.

GOP Has 27-23 Margin
The seating of Senator-elect William H. Davis (R-Luzerne) will give the GOP a 27-23 margin in the Senate. The House is controlled by the Democrats.

Asked if he thought the defeat of Sen. McPherson (R-Adams) in quest of the Adams-Pulton judgeship may have been the result of the senator's voting record in Harrisburg, Horst replied no.

He repeated a post-election statement that the vote was no endorsement of the Leader program.

The Legislature returns to session next Monday after a three-week recess. There's no sign of an agreement on taxes. Contrary-wise, if looks like the lawmakers will greet the new year while still in session.

Leader Credits Labor Independents
Meanwhile, Gov. Leader gave credit to organized labor, independent Republicans and Democrats for his party successes on Tuesday.

In a crack at U.S. Sen. Duff and Sen. Taylor (R-Dauphin), Leader declared:

"Sen. Duff and Sen. Taylor have roadblocked this session of the Legislature for 10 months in an effort to win this election—and they have failed."

Leader and Taylor exchanged verbal blows last week on the extent of Taylor's insurance business with the state.

Taylor's Republican organization swept to big victories in Dauphin

County. But the majority for the new GOP mayor of Harrisburg, Rep. Ziegler (R-Dauphin), was cut sharply, in contrast to the Republican majority four years ago.

"If we Democrats are dedicated enough, sincere enough, and serve the people well enough, I am confident that Pennsylvania will be in the Democratic column in the national election in 1956," Leader said.

Sen. Barr (D-Allegheny) said the Democratic trend shown in 1954 is still in evidence as a result of Tuesday's election and will likely continue into the 1956 presidential year.

"It proves that people want a government in Washington that represents all the people and not just the favored few," said Barr.

Horst, noting the GOP victory in Dauphin County, said it was accomplished despite the governor's intervention.

"The setbacks suffered by Republicans in Philadelphia and Allegheny County were not unexpected although the margin of victory was greater than expected," Horst added.

He asserted the power of Democratic organizations in those counties was "too strong."

KEYS WORKED
WAYNESBORO, Va. (AP) — Roger Miller reported his car stolen. Police found no clue until a telephone call came that night. Seems the caller had asked a friend to take his car home. The friend got in a car described and the keys worked. He took it to his friend's home. The cars were identical in make and color.

ORANGE, Va. (AP) — John W. Thompson knew Carol Reynolds but they had never had a date. When Airman First Class Thompson became a prisoner of the Red Chinese, though, Carol wrote him a letter. Then more letters were exchanged. A month after Thompson, American airman released by the Reds, was welcomed home here where they were wedding bells for Carol and John.

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — When Professor Norton Barr Crowell commented that he served in the last war, a student cracked, "Oh, are you that young?" Crowell returned breezily, "Oh, I'm pretty young. And I'm younger now than I will be next year when you take this course again."

WOMENWORKERS BUSY LINING UP CAMPAIGN VOTES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Never in the memory of veteran politicians have women workers in both the Democratic and Republican parties been so active so far in advance of the national presidential convention as they are now.

Both Bertha Adkins, Republican women's director, and Katie Louchheim, head of Democratic activities, see this as a sign of growing interest by women in politics.

Even during the summer months, both Miss Adkins and Mrs. Louchheim received mail unusually heavy this far ahead of campaign time.

Strategy Meetings
"Our office has been so far from quiet that we've come to the conclusion that Democrats didn't take any vacations this year," said Mrs. Louchheim. Miss Adkins said Republicans haven't been idle either.

Both women leaders have been traveling about the country to campaign strategy meetings, and ahead of each is a stepped-up schedule of speeches.

Both Miss Adkins and Mrs. Louchheim have started women party workers on new ideas.

Poll Voters
The GOP National Committee wanted a cross-section poll on what voters throughout the country are thinking on key issues. Women volunteers were called upon to punch doorbells and ask the questions in this first opinion-sampling done by a national political party.

Miss Adkins drew up the plan, in which poll-takers operated in selected precincts considered representative of urban and rural areas in every state.

Mrs. Louchheim thought up the scheme that has started Democratic women throughout the country on a tea-drinking binge in hopes of pyramiding $1 cups of tea into millions of campaign dollars.

TV Tea Campaign
With the slogan "come and take a cup of tea — put the Democrats on TV," here's how Mrs. Louchheim's idea works:

To get off to a start, a Democratic woman invites 10 Democratic women to tea. Each is expected to contribute $1, half of it to be sent to the national committee.

Then each of those 10 has a tea and invites 10 guests, each of whom is also expected to have a tea for 10.

A leading specialist in the field of child photography, Josef Schneider, urges use of a practice doll, about the size of a small child to help gain proficiency in the work. After preliminary training in handling and photographing a doll, the student will be better prepared to cope with a live, wriggling child, he says.

"Unlike fashion, sports, news or other specialized fields of photography," he told me, "child photography is a field in which subjects are available everywhere at all times. They're no further than your own house . . . or your neighbor's. It is a field of perpetual demand because parents, publications and advertisers all want good photos of youngsters — not once, but again and again as they grow, change and do things."

"Successful child portraiture is possible," Schneider emphasized,

"if two things are learned. First, good lighting. Secondly, effective methods for managing the child."

Start With One Light

He hastens to add that this is extreme simplification of the problem. He suggests beginners start with only one light.

With the model on a low platform, sitting three feet from the wall, the one light is placed four feet from the child, 15 inches to the right of the camera and 20 inches above the eye level of the child. The light is angled downward at the child's chest, not at the face, to prevent direct glare in the eyes. The camera, on a tripod, is 12 inches above the child's eye level.

This front light set-up will give well modeled features. It can also be used as the main light in conjunction with one or two back lights.

Basic Lighting Is Effective

"Basic lighting set-ups for one, two or three photofloods are effective no matter which way a child turns as long as the youngster is maneuvered into a certain area," Schneider says. "The latter is done by a whole repertoire of games, stunts, noises and toys. Different age levels of children require different combinations of tricks and gimmicks but they rivet the child's attention, keep him in position and provide a series of expressions which can be captured on film."

Here are some of the stunts he suggests:

Likes Topping Boxes

A baby about a year old often thinks it hilarious if a pile of small cardboard boxes on the photographer's head topple over. Then pile the boxes near him and let him push them over.

When he tires of that game, give him an old magazine and tear out one page. The idea will sink in quickly and will keep him busy tearing out more pages.

He also likes noises — especially if he makes the noise himself. Give him a saucepan or kettle and tablespoon and watch him beat the band. To stop the movement of the arm when you want to shoot, suddenly attract the child's attention — and be prepared to push the button instantly.

Blows Out Candles

A two-year-old will respond to a give-and-take-away game with a toy, a ball or a doll. He likes to blow out lighted matches or candles. If he keeps a pacifier in his mouth or sucks his thumb, give him a cookie or piece of bread.

Toy telephones are great fun for most 3-year-olds and blowing soap bubbles fascinates them. You can also keep a stock of pennies around for an intriguing game. Put a penny in a film box or little purse and hand it to the child.

Watch his jubilant expression as he retrieves the penny. Take the container back and put another penny in. That's when to shoot.

"The whole emphasis is on getting the picture right to start with," Schneider pointed out, " . . . not on darkroom manipulation in processing afterward. It's as easy to take it right as wrong, then the darkroom end of it which follows becomes strictly mechanical. At home, processing is a matter of time and temperature. Or

HEALTH BOARD FORESEES DELAY IN ERIE'S UNIT

HARRISBURG (AP) — A state Health Department official predicted today that it will be at least several months before an Erie County health department will be ready for operation.

Erie County residents voted 3-1 in Tuesday's election to permit establishment of the local-level health unit.

"There are several matters that must be attended to the satisfaction of the state Health Department before the unit will be permitted to begin operations," said Dr. Charles Wilbar, deputy health secretary.

Expresses Joy

Wilbar expressed "great delight" at Erie County joining with two other counties in voting to install the unit.

Butler County began operation of its local health department in January, 1954 and Bucks County opened its unit for business last December.

"There will be a delay of at least several months before the Erie County commissioners will be able to set the program up," Wilbar said.

The initial move is the appointment of a five-member health board by the county commissioners.

Steps Involved

They in turn will complete the following steps to qualify their passed by the 1951 General Assembly:

1. Provide local funds to match state money with a maximum state grant of 75 cents per capita each year.

2. Draw up and have approved by the state Health Department a table of organization.

3. Submit proof that the personnel to be hired will be taken on in accordance with the health department's merit system of pay grading.

4. Acquire adequate facilities and other equipment.

5. Draw up for the approval of the Health Department a set of rules and regulations to govern the operation of the unit.

Approval Required

In each case, Wilbar said, the state Advisory Health Board will have to give its approval before any actual work will be allowed in the unit.

"We (the department) were very happy to see the fine margin by which the voters agreed to setting up the county health department in Erie," Wilbar said, adding:

"Our ultimate aim is to have the whole state adopt the plan either in single or multicounty groups for the purpose of better health administration."

Under the program, the county

BIG SMILE, NO TICKET

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Officer Kent L. Martin stopped a motorist and started to write out a ticket for a traffic violation last night. He said the motorist asked for leniency, saying he had voted in favor of a proposed raise for Salt Lake policemen and firemen Tuesday in the municipal election. So Martin says he sent the motorist on his way with a big smile—and the ticket.

WAR ON SPEEDERS

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Napoleon Bonaparte Triplett wasn't a candidate and didn't even know his district had a constable. But he was elected to the office on write-in votes, Tuesday. He said yesterday he would use his authority to crack down on speeding in his neighborhood.

CHICAGO (AP)—The long expected announcement that Adlai Stevenson will seek the Democratic presidential nomination next year apparently will come Tuesday.

The 1952 nominee's press aide, Roger Tubby, said yesterday Stevenson will make a statement on "the Democratic presidential nomination" to newsmen at 3 p.m. EST that day. The statement will be for release at 6:30 p.m. EST.

units will work as independent health departments with the state health department acting in a supervisory capacity.

FINAL HEARING ON RATE BOOST

HARRISBURG (AP)—Final argument will be held in Harrisburg next Tuesday by the Public Utility Commission on an estimated $4,380,792 annual natural gas rate increase proposed by the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., Pittsburgh.

The boost is under a nine-month suspension which ends Dec. 4-5 and a series of public hearings in the PUC's investigation ended two weeks ago.

The city of Pittsburgh, which protested the increase in 22 western Pennsylvania counties, requested the argument. Eleven other communities and 23 industrial plants are also protesting the proposal.

Manufacturers sought a $629,879 increase to go into effect last March 4 and $3,750,913 more the following day for 234,000 consumers.

The company serves Adams, Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Bedford, Butler, Chester, Clarion, Elk, Fayette, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Jefferson, Lawrence, McKean, Mercer, Somerset, Venango, Warren, Washington and Westmoreland counties.

PAY $11,333 SCHOOL TAXES

At the regular meeting of the Conewago Township School Board Monday evening at the Sand Hill School, a check for $11,333, covering school taxes, was turned over to the board by the collector, Edward F. Shorb.

Approval was given for hauling old fencing from the property of J. C. Hoover, which adjoins the Midway School building.

Henry E. Leppo, treasurer, reported that the auditor's report for the past school year had not been advertised or posted as required by law and the secretary was instructed to have this done. Leppo also stated that the budget for the last school year fails to show money paid on loans made by the board, but that two loans had been settled by the

YOUNG PROWLER SIGNS CONFESSION

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—A German refugee who told of prowling at the Woodward estate the night William Woodward Jr. was killed has signed a statement repeating his story and has dropped the lawyer who said his client might have been influenced by police.

Boile, in the amount of $11,462 were approved for payment, including a short term loan of $5,000. Authority was given for the erection of shelving for children's lunch boxes. The question of a bond for the secretary was aired and he will comply as it is required by law.

Those present at the meeting were: Felix Klunk, president; Bernard Smith, vice president; John L. Sneeringer, secretary; Leppo, Russell Reichart, and Harold R. Blair, supervising principal.

At the Nassau County Jail yesterday, Paul W. Wirths, 22, signed an earlier oral confession that he was on the roof over Mrs. Ann Woodward's bedroom when she fired a shotgun blast which cost the life of her 35-year-old husband. Mrs. Woodward, 39, said fear of a prowler—and hearing a noise—caused her to fire into the darkened hallway of her Oyster Bay, Long Island home Woodward and his wife occupied separate bedrooms.

Wirths, when first picked up and accused of burglarizing another home in the area, told of trying to break into the Woodward home—but not during the early morning hours of Sunday, Oct. 30, when Woodward was shot.

Three days ago he changed his story. His attorney, Alvin Korngold, claimed Wirths was susceptible to suggestions and that police might have influenced his support of Mrs. Woodward's story.

ROCK HUDSON WEDS BRUNETTE

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Film star Rock Hudson, who often said he'd never marry until he was 30, is honeymooning with his agent's secretary today—a week before he reaches that age.

Rugged Rock, a 6-foot-4 Navy veteran and one of the screen's handsomest bachelors, eloped yesterday with brunette Phyllis Gates, 25. They drove to Santa Barbara, 90 miles north of here, and were married by the Rev. N. B. Thorpe, pastor of Santa Barbara's Trinity Lutheran Church. They proceeded in Hudson's car to an unannounced destination.

He telephoned Universal-International Studio, which gave him a honeymoon leave until Nov. 28, when he starts a picture with Lauren Bacall. Miss Gates is secretary to agent Henry Willson, who arranged Hudson's first screen test in 1948 when the aspiring actor was working as a letter carrier. Rock delivered his own special delivery letter requesting a chance in movies. Willson, coming to the door to sign for it, took an interest in the handsome youth.

The elopement was no surprise to studio associates. Hudson had dated Miss Gates frequently since they met a year ago in Willson's office. It is the first marriage for each.

He died in a rib fall in the Stansford No. 2 Mine of the New River Coal, federal and state mine inspectors reported.

SOVIETS PLACE HOUSING NEEDS BEFORE DECOR

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
MOSCOW (AP) — Charging there has been too much stress on the "flashy side of construction," the Soviet government has cracked down on four of its top architects. It says the nation's builders have been wasting money on ornate decoration and skyscrapers and disregarding needs of the people for housing.

An official statement last night said chief architects Vlasov and Chechulin were deprived of their government decorations and fired. It said two other nationally known architects, Polykov and Boretzky, were deprived of their Stalin prize laureates.

(Files in New York list A. V. Vlasov as president of the Academy of Architects of the Soviet Union. The New York Times and the Herald Tribune identified Alexander V. Vlasov as a member of the 10-man Russian housing delegation scheduled to leave the United States today after a month-long inspection of American home building techniques.)

Gives No Comment
(The Times quoted Vlasov as saying "I cannot comment on the report as I am not acquainted with it.")

(The Herald Tribune said Vlasov was picked up at the New York hotel, where the delegation is staying, yesterday morning by Victor Zegal, second secretary of the Soviet embassy in Washington. The newspaper quoted a delegation spokesman as saying the two spent the day shopping. The remainder of the delegation spent most of yesterday today visiting a New York skyscraper.)

TURNCOATS RELEASED

Polykov and Boretzky were the builders of the 28-story Leningrad Hotel. Loss of their Stalin prize laureates was regarded as almost tantamount to dismissal.

The Stalin prizes awarded in various fields, include a gold medal bearing Stalin's image and 100,000 rubles for top winners. The Russians quote the ruble at four to the dollar.

The announcement of one of the biggest official shakeups in recent years was made by the Central Committee of the Communist party and the Council of Ministers. It apparently wrote a finish to a so-called Western trend in building here. It condemned "towerlike superstructures, numerous ornamental colonnades and other architectural superfluities taken from days of yore."

Millions of square yards of living space for workers were lost, the statement said, because of building irregularities. It also said a "large amount of government funds have been ever-expended in recent years."

SHELL GAME

HOLLAND, Mich. (AP) — Pranks by inmates of the Holland city jail have backfired. Prisoners used to have the privilege of reloading practice bullets for the police pistol team. But twice within a week .38 caliber revolvers blew up in the hands of officers firing at targets. Police traced the trouble to an overload of powder in the shells.

After hearing giggling in a cell block, the officers decided to reload their own shells hereafter.

SCENTED HERBS SWEETEN LIFE FOR MRS. IRISH

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — A Midland housewife can embark on a mealtime adventure every time she steps into her hobby—the herb garden that grows outside her kitchen door.

In a plot of scented flavors, Mrs. D. D. Irish tends sweet basil and oregano; borage and burnet; chervil, chives and coriander; apple mint and peppermint; saffron, savory and thyme.

In 10 years of experimentation, Mrs. Irish has developed a plot of more than 20 different varieties of herbs. Well-known as an expert in the field, she frequently speaks before women's and garden groups on her hobby.

Thrives In Small Plot
Since she first began to grow herbs, she has found they are more satisfactory in a smaller plot and closer to the house than her original garden.

"I found that to make the best use of herbs they should be readily available and that very little space is needed to grow an ample amount," Mrs. Irish says.

A single plant is enough for normal needs. Care must always be taken in cooking with herbs to use a little at a time—too much gives a bitter flavor.

To have a supply of herbs on hand during the winter months, Mrs. Irish gathers many varieties at their flavor peak, just before blossoming time, and dries them.

Just how does Mrs. Irish use her herbs?
One summertime way is in a cold thermos jug filled with mint tea. Her mint plants include spearmint, apple mint, pineapple mint and peppermint.

Use Sweet Scents
The leaves of sweet-scented geraniums—rose, peppermint and lemon—are used to flavor jellies or crushed to spice a room.

Leaf tips of borage go into pickles, fish sauces and salads; the flowers can be candied or floated in punch. Burnet gives a cucumber-like flavor to salads; chives have a delicate onion flavor; chervil is similar to parsley; coriander, an ingredient of curry powder, flavors honey cakes and cookies.

Mrs. Irish, exploring new uses for herbs, finds that true enjoyment of herb flavors is best fostered by gradual introduction of their different tastes.

Her rule: a light and delicate touch.

BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP) — The commander of the third military district announced the release of 1,198 persons from jails and prisons on the occasion of Indonesia's Independence Day. They had been held under the "state of war and siege" regulations, and all had belonged to infantry regiments.

BERLIN CHURCH IS RESTORED

BERLIN (AP) — One of Germany's most spectacular war ruins, the Kaiser Wilhelm Gedächtnis Kirche, is being rebuilt despite widespread controversy.

The wrecked church forms an imposing backdrop for West Berlin's smartest shopping street, the Kurfürstendamm.

Some West Berliners said the ruin should be left as it is — a memorial to Adolf Hitler and his disastrous war. Others, and this included a number of city officials, were in favor of tearing it down.

They said it was a traffic nuisance. Still others wanted the main part of the church rebuilt, but said its tower — abbreviated by Allied bombs and Russian attillery shells — should be left as it is, an emphatic war memorial.

Then there was the congregation. It decided to rebuild.

Dislikes Reminders
"I'm against reminders of war," says Pastor Paul Schmidt.

Estimated cost for the main part of the church is $547,400. Schmidt plans lotteries, collection drives and hopes for aid from the West Berlin and West German governments.

"We also hope to receive contributions from our American friends," Schmidt says.

The church was completed in 1895 when Kaiser Wilhelm II wanted a memorial to the first Kaiser Wilhelm.

The rebuilt church will have 1,400 seats as compared to 2,600 in the original. Reconstruction of the main church is to be completed by Easter Sunday, 1956. Repair of the main tower is expected to cost an additional $178,-

500, but Schmidt hopes to raise this within 10 years.

Carl Nystrom, Michigan State's football captain, was an all-around athlete in high school. He played football, basketball, baseball, ice hockey and tennis.

500, but Schmidt hopes to raise this within 10 years.

TAKES NEW POST
SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—William D. Morgan, a Scranton attorney, was sworn in yesterday as assistant U.S. attorney for Pennsylvania's Middle District. He was appointed by U.S. Atty. J. Julius Levy.

U.S. Election Results Cause Different Opinions In D.C.; Parties Predict 1956 Gains

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Kirwan (D-Ohio) said today Tuesday's election results indicate Democrats will boost their House majority next year by even more than the 30-seat gain he previously predicted.

But Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) saw only "local issues" as having decided the vote. He still predicted a Republican pickup of 32 seats to take command of the House in 1956.

The sharp contrast in views of the chairmen of Democratic and Republican congressional campaign committees underscored the split between leaders of the two parties over what the election signified. The voters themselves gave the Democrats a clear net gain over the GOP in the city and state contests.

Kefauver Predicts Win

Democratic Sens. Kefauver (Tenn.) and Humphrey (Minn.) in separate interviews claimed the outcome foreshadowed continued control of Congress and capture of the White House by their party.

Kefauver, expected to run for the Democratic presidential nomination, said, "It's good news for the Democrats next year." Humphrey, who is willing to run for vice president, called it "just another step forward to return of Democratic control in the national capital."

But Sen. Curtis (R-Neb.) said the Tuesday vote was "not significant" as far as next year's national elections are concerned, because the 1956 contests "will depend on conditions prevailing next year."

Presidential Race Main Factor

"The presidential race will be the main factor next year in contests for the Senate, the House, governors and other offices," Curtis said. He did not indicate who he expects to head the party tickets, but declared, "The Democrats

TRAFFIC MOVES AS AFL PICKETS N. J. TURNPIKE

Traffic moved normally today along the New Jersey Turnpike as a strike by AFL maintenance workers headed into its second day.

The walkout began yesterday in a dispute over wages, and the strikers picketed entrances to the road. However, state police said the pickets were not on Turnpike property and did not affect traffic on the 118-mile superhighway.

A spokesman for the two locals involved said toll collectors, who belong to either the AFL or CIO, would be asked to join the strike. Turnpike police said last night the collectors have not joined the walkout.

Pickets Outside Interchanges

Pickets were stationed outside interchanges and contractors' entrances.

The strikers belong to Locals 10 and 320 of the AFL Highway Maintenance Employees Union.

Negotiations deadlocked yesterday, and spokesmen for the two locals said they would abandon the talks and strike.

Toll Collectors May Strike

Originally the unions sought a $40 a month wage boost, but this demand was reportedly cut in half.

Henry Rose, public relations director for the N. J. Turnpike Authority, said he didn't know whether the superhighway — which runs from Ridgefield Park to Deepwater — would be shut in the event toll collectors join the strike.

Maintenance workers do grading jobs and make minor repairs on the turnpike.

In a statement the authority said an average 9-cent hourly increase would go to 188 of the 192 maintenance department employees between Oct. 1, 1955 and July 1, 1956.

The authority said the unions asked that the hourly wages be boosted from the $1.39-$1.85 limits in effect before Oct. 1 to $1.50-$1.85.

OKAY PENSIONS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—By a landslide proportion, the state's voters have expressed themselves in favor of amending the state constitution to increase the pensions of retired state workers.

Returns from 51 of the state's 67 counties in Tuesday's balloting showed 496,498 voting in favor of the referendum and 186,376 voting against it.

In some counties the vote will not be released until the official count is made.

ing a third as they slept in their trucks along the road during the summer of 1953.

The rewards were offered by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn. and Continental Transportation Lines, Pittsburgh, who asked the court yesterday to settle which of various claimants is entitled to all of part of the money.

The AFL Teamsters Union put up another $5,000 but no announcement has been made as to who will get that.

When Jim Ellis, former Michigan State star, played in his first game in 1951, he intercepted three passes against Oregon State.

FARM INCOME RECEIPTS LAG

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Agriculture Secretary William L. Henning says farm cash income in Pennsylvania has declined nearly 10 percent during the last two years.

And he told a meeting of the Pennsylvania Grocers Assn. last night that farm receipts for the first eight months of this year are running about one million dollars behind the same period in 1954.

"Farmers are still in the cost-price squeeze," he said. "They are getting only 40 cents of the consumer's market basket dollar today."

Is Hardest Hit

Saying that the so-called "small" farmer is the hardest hit in the decline of farm cash income, Henning added:

"Our Pennsylvania farmers are feeling the effects of this downturn in income. In the United States last year the per capita income of farm people averaged $918 as compared with $1,836 for non-farmers."

Henning said that more goods and services will be available to the farmer when farm income "gets into better balance with industrial income."

Predicts Change

"The farmer is due for a better break," the secretary declared. "He is looking for his rightful share of any prosperity that is being passed around... and when he gets it... the entire community, county, state and nation will benefit."

Ike Appoints Two State Marshals

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower has named Oliver H. Metcalf U. S. Marshal for the Middle District of Pennsylvania and Albert DiMeolo marshal for the state's Western District.

The recess appointments of the two Republicans, made yesterday, are subject to Senate confirmation.

Metcalf, a Pennsylvania district highway safety director who makes his home at Middlebury Center, succeeds Carl H. Fleckenstein, whose term expired.

DiMeolo, a sales representative from Mount Lebanon, replaces John E. Sloan, whose term also expired.

CHRISTMAS CLUB MEMBERS TO GET BILLION, PLUS

This month the largest Christmas check ever will be sent to the largest number of Christmas Club savers when 6,600 financial institutions distribute one billion, one hundred thirty million dollars to twelve million, five hundred thousand Christmas Club members.

Edward F. Dorset, president of Christmas Club, a Corporation, announced Wednesday that for the fourth successive year annual savings in Christmas Club had passed the billion dollar mark. Commenting on the continued growth of the club, Dorset emphasized the contribution that is made to the national economy when such a huge sum is distributed to the American public. Individual security will be increased when nearly a third of the total is redeposited in permanent savings accounts. Debt will be reduced when a substantial slice of the billion is used to pay accumulated bills. Department stores and merchants will feel the boost when those 12½ million members start their Christmas shopping. And Santa Claus will seem more real than ever when Johnny and Jane find those bikes and dolls under the Christmas tree.

$90.40 Average Check

The 1955 payoff is the largest in the history of the club and represents an increase over 1954 of 50 million dollars (4.5%) with three hundred thousand more members. The average check this year amounts to $90.40 for each member.

Of the 6,600 institutions 154 had clubs in excess of $1,000,000 each. As in past years, New York leads with 2,493,559 members and $236,334,189, followed by Pennsylvania with 1,903,190 members and $171,478,524 and then New Jersey with 1,146,514 members and $129,876,622.

In 1910 when the name, idea and plan of Christmas Club was originated, there were less than $7 billion in all savings deposits in the nation, and these were divided among only 15 million savers. In 1954 savings

Cpl. Goodermuth Is Special Guard

Cpl. Terry R. Goodermuth, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Goodermuth, 633 York St., who is stationed at Oahu, Hawaiian Islands, is one of 20 Marines chosen as special guards for the SEATO secret meetings at Camp Smith, Aiea, in session now at the Marine base.

The SEATO military staff planners went behind closed doors early this month to forge defense plans for Southeast Asia. The eight nations represented at the conference are: United States, United Kingdom, Thailand, Philippines, Pakistan, Australia, France and New Zealand. Their agenda covers the length and breadth of military matters: intelligence, communications, logistics and arms.

Corporal Goodermuth has been stationed in Hawaii more than a year.

t totaled 160 billion dollars with nearly 100 million savers. Many millions of these savers made their first banking contacts through Christmas Club, Mr. Dorset said.

Not all of that billion, one hundred million dollars will go into retail trade; some of it will go right back into savings, but all of it will boost the nation's economy. Surveys made by Christmas Club, a Corporation, indicate that it will be used as follows:

Stamp News

By SYD KRONISH

One hundred years ago a Californian named Freeman Cobb migrated to Australia in search of gold and started a stage coach transport system there. He formed a company of Americans, Cobb & Co., which made Australian history and fortunes for its owners.

As a tribute to the pioneers of this era Australia will issue two stamps, a 3½ pence and 2 shillings. The design reproduces Australian artist Sir Lionel Lindsay's well known etching, "Cobb & Co.," sketched in the early 1890's on the Western Australian goldfields.

Two new stamps showing the Swedish flag have been issued by Sweden. The stamps are larger in size than the usual Swedish stamps. The values are 10 ore and 15 ore. The date of issue, June 6, appears on each adhesive.

Soo Locks Issue

To commemorate the centennial anniversary of the Soo Locks, the United States issued a 3-cent stamp on June 28, the opening day of the Soo Locks Centennial Exposition.

The first place of sale was Sault Sainte Marie, Mich.

The design shows a map of the Great Lakes against a scenic background of sky, water and a lake steamer. Each lake carries its name. In the upper right corner of the stamp are the words: "Soo Locks—1855 Sault Sainte Marie—1955." At the bottom of the stamp are the words: "A Century of Great Lakes Transportation."

Austria commemorates the 4th World Congress of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions (ICFTU) with a special 1 schilling stamp. The meeting will be held in Vienna. The stamp shows three workers helping each other climb a world globe.

New Vatican Stamps

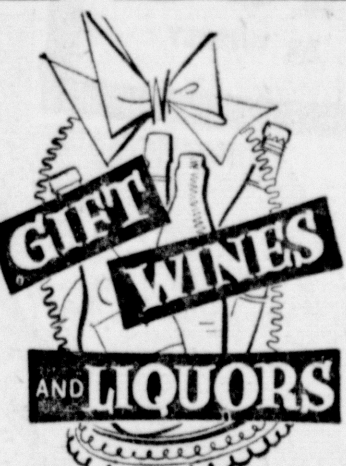

The Vatican has issued three new stamps honoring St. Bonifacio reports the New York Stamp Co. The stamps depict St. Bonifacio holding a cross in one hand and a Bible pierced with a dagger in the other hand. In the background is the Fulda Abbey which he founded and where his body lies at rest. The 20 lire is gray, 35 lire purple and 60 lire blue green.

FAURE STAKES POLITICAL LIFE ON FOURTH VOTE

By HARVEY HUDSON
PARIS (AP) — Premier Edgar Faure today staked the life of his government on a revision of the system for electing deputies to the National Assembly.

The vote, which will come Saturday, will be the fourth demand Faure has made on the Assembly in less than four weeks to show its confidence in his government.

If the Assembly backs the premier Saturday, the government's plan for parliamentary elections in December — six months ahead of schedule — will still be alive. But its future by no means will be certain.

If Faure loses, he will have to resign.

As in previous confidence votes, the deputies will have at least one sobering thought that may stay their hand from chopping off the government's head. Under the constitution, if two governments are booted out within 18 months by a majority of the Assembly's entire membership, the Cabinet and the president of the republic could dissolve Parliament and call for new elections. Pierre Mendes-France lost the premiership by such a majority only last

TWO AIRMEN RESCUED FROM PACIFIC OCEAN

HONOLULU (AP)—Two of five airmen who parachuted into the Pacific were picked up late last night by a seaplane tender which spotted their flashlights on their lifejackets.

The U.S. Navy seaplane tender Floyds Bay found the men more than a mile apart after a 75 mile dash through wind and rain-whipped seas to the spot where the five crewmen bailed out of their C119 Flying Boxcar after one of its two engines ran wild.

The Air Force said there was no sign of the other three crewmen, "but they seem to have the area pretty well bracketed" and expressed hope they would be found.

A Pan American Airways plane reported spotting two lights on the surface some 650 miles east of here last night, more than three hours after the crew radioed one of its engines was running wild and they would have to parachute. Seas were whipped into 6 to 10 foot swells by rainstorms and winds up to 25 m.p.h. the Navy said.

On Ferrying Flight
The Floyds Bay reached the area around 11 p.m. and picked up the first survivor. Half an hour later it recovered the second man. Their names were not reported.

The lost plane was one of two which left McClellan Air Force Base at Sacramento, Calif., yesterday for Hickam AFB, Honolulu, on a ferrying flight to Japan. Both crews were from the 1708th Ferrying Wing based at Kelly AFB in Texas.

As the two planes droned toward Hawaii yesterday, one was about an hour ahead of the other. The lead plane received a radio message from the second one that it had an engine racing out of control.

"Unable to feather propeller and will have to bail out," said the message. The lead plane turned back to establish and report the position.

Dislike Electoral Law
By hurling Faure from office, the deputies — many of whom are not anxious to face the voters just now—might still have to go to the polls. And they would enter elections under the present electoral law which many deputies dislike.

The deputies have not been able to agree, however, on what kind of system they do like. They rejected 11 different suggestions last week before Faure won a confidence test, 330-211, on the simple question of advancing the election date.

The premier himself opposes straight proportional representation and said last week his government could not accept it. To avoid a vote on the measure, Faure asked for the confidence vote on ending the Assembly session Jan. 2, thereby automatically stopping debate.

Under the French constitution 24 hours must elapse before a conference vote can be held. The deputies decided not to hold it Friday, Armistice Day.

A new starch method is said to be a time saver. Instead of starching new clothes the first time, use one tablespoon or more for added stiffness in a cup of sprinkling water, just before ironing. If clothes have been washed before, give them a real starching just once. When starch disappears, the sprinkling water method may be used. This method works best with starches that are supposed to keep clothes crisp from 6 to 12 launderings, after one application.

GOP SWEEPS 2-1 IN THREATENED DELAWARE CO.

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—A surprisingly strong Delaware County Republican organization beat down the threat of a reorganized Democratic party to sweep row offices by a 2 to 1 margin in yesterday's election.

Unofficial returns from 290 precincts indicated veteran GOP leader John J. McClure led his group to victory with a plurality of 40,000, which is 5,000 more than last year's gubernatorial returns.

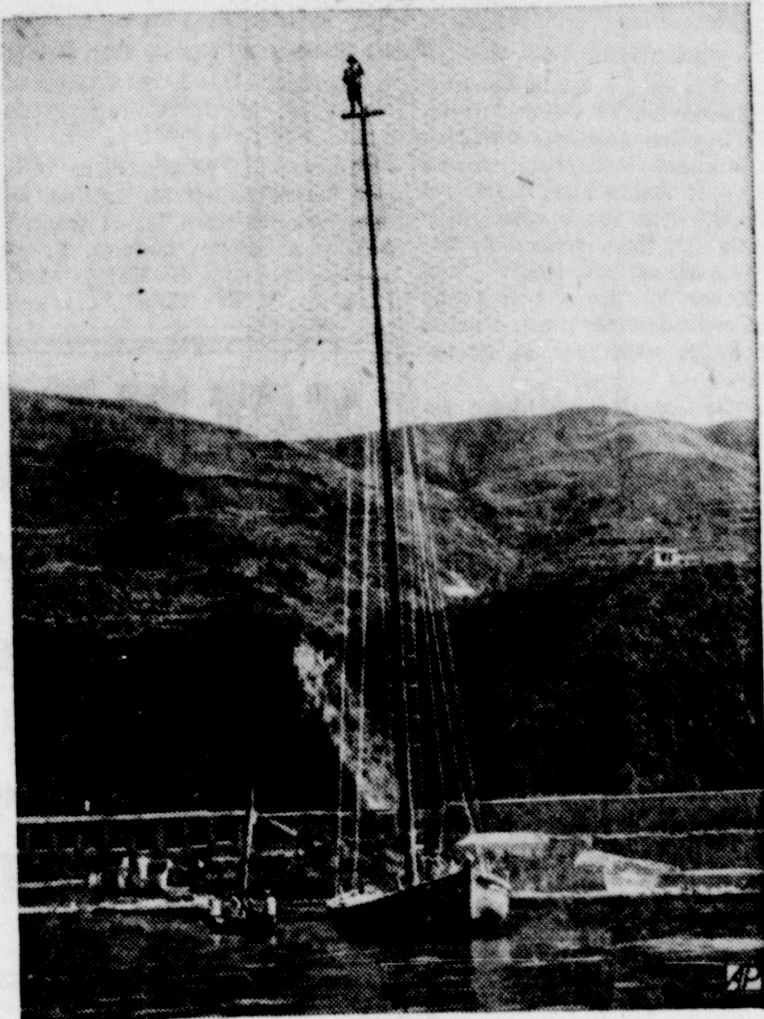

In Chester, Democrat Lawrence A. Conner fell before the Republican nominee, Joseph L. Eyre, who polled nearly 13,000 votes. The 9,000 votes for Conner were the highest tally a Democratic candidate ever received in the city. The McClure forces won every post in the city but one constable. Chester has been Republican for more than 50 years.

Republican forces led by Samuel R. Dickey also swept Upper Darby, winning all but 2 of the 67 precincts. All seven commissioners in the township went to the GOP.

Of 49 municipal districts in the county, only five went to the Democrats—Darby Twp., Chester Twp., Clifton Heights, East Lansdowne and Trainer. Darby went Democratic for the first time in its history.

In the county, Dist. Atty. Raymond R. Start was reelected over his Democratic opponent, Robert M. Seibert, of Yeadon; GOP Chairman Arthur C. Throne was reelected county commissioner and retiring county Treasurer Frank T. Dotts, Republican, also won a post on the county commission. The third minority member of the commission will be James J. Connor, who led his Democratic running mate, John M. Guinan, by 2,000 votes.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Joseph E. Pappano, Chester, won the recorder of deeds post over Democrat Donald L. Belden; Thomas J. Gamble took the race for treasurer from Democrat Paul M. McCarthy; Howard F. Reed of Media was elected prothonotary over Sherman Williams of Chester, and H. Gilmore Damon of Nether Providence won election as surveyor over his Democratic opponent, Louis Repetto.

Two judges were unopposed, E. Leroy Vanorden of the Orphans Court and Common Pleas Judge John V. Diggins.

The proposed constitutional amendment carried in the county by 22,000 votes to 9,000.

In a local referendum, Lansdowne voted against Sunday movies.

Split Ticket Voting
In Montgomery County Orphans Court Judge Alfred L. Taxis Jr., a Republican running as the Democratic nominee, won a full 10-year term when nearly two thirds of the voters split their tickets in a drive spearheaded by 400 members of the County Bar Assn.

Taxis was appointed to the bench last December by former Gov.

John S. Fine and retained his seat in a stunning upset over Republican organization candidate, Frederick X. Smilie.

Leads By 80,000

Newly elected County Commissioners J. Walter Hammonds and Warren Cornell led the Republican sweep with nearly 80,000 votes. They succeed retiring veteran GOP leaders Fred C. Peters and Foster C. Hillegass. Peters, a longtime county Republican chairman, was recently appointed collector of customs for the Port of Philadelphia by President Eisenhower.

The minority commissioner will be Forrest J. Henry, whose 45,285 votes led his running mate, R. Meade Smith, Jr., by about 2,000. Another GOP newcomer, first Asst. Dist. Atty. Bernard DiJoseph was elected district attorney over Democrat William F. Fox, 79,929 to 44,511.

HOUSE HITS TRAIN

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The Texas and Pacific railroad brought suit for damages growing out of a train-house wreck.

They said C. J. Ware was at fault when the house he was moving got in the way of one of the T and P freights at a crossing.

DEMOCRATS WIN CLEAN SWEEP IN PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Veteran County Commissioner John J. Kane led the Democratic party to a clean sweep in yesterday's elections in Pittsburgh and the remainder of Allegheny County.

After easily re-electing four councilmen and controller in Pittsburgh, the Democrats made it an all-out victory as they took complete control of county offices.

Atty. Edward C. Boyle was elected district attorney, ousting Dist. Atty. James F. Malone Jr., who had spearheaded the Republican campaign. Boyle, a former U.S. attorney in western Pennsylvania and a close friend of Mayor David L. Lawrence, piled up an early lead in Pittsburgh and Malone couldn't quite overcome it in other sections of the county.

Boyle Leads Malone

With 1,101 of the county's 1,170 precincts reporting, Boyle had 242, 184 votes to 230,280 for Malone, who was state insurance commissioner in the cabinet of former Gov. James H. Duff.

Pittsburgh's three daily newspapers supported Malone.

The Democrats made their victory complete in the county by electing Atty. James M. Guffey to the County Court. He defeated Judge William R. Corbett, seeking a full 10-year term. Corbett was appointed by former Gov. John S. Fine.

3 Turncoat Yanks Arrive In States

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three former U.S. soldiers—turncoats in Korea—are free today in the land they once renounced for communism.

They indicated they will return soon to their homes.

The Army, acting on orders of a federal judge, yesterday released Otho G. Bell, William A. Cowart and Lewie W. Griggs from Ft. Baker Stockade.

As photographers and reporters crowded around, Coward, 22 of Dalton, Ga., said as spokesman for the three:

"We feel now about American justice the same as always. We're in the most democratic country in the world."

Griggs, 23, of Neches, Tex., typically said nothing.

Bell, 24, of Hillsboro, Miss., declared in an emotion-charged voice: "I'm going to do everything in my power to prove myself a good American citizen by doing everything in my power to destroy communism."

BUCKS COUNTY DEMS END GOP 53-YEAR STREAK

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP) — The Democrats whipped the Republican organization in Bucks County for the first time in 53 years Tuesday, electing a judge and coroner and apparently snatching control of the patronage-important commission.

In what was described as the roughest name-calling campaign in Bucks history, marked even by the arrest of one of the Republican candidates, the Democrats appeared to have won election to every major office, except one.

Republicans, however, continued their domination in Delaware, Chester and Montgomery Counties.

Rubin Wins Race
The key contest in Bucks was the race for Common Pleas judge. Republican I. Louis Rubin, running on the Democratic ticket, crushed the GOP incumbent, John W. Eckelberry who had been appointed to the bench last December by former Gov. John Pine. Rubin led by more than 15,000 votes.

Incumbent Russell J. T. Ferris, arrested a month ago on charges of fee-padding and misappropriation of county funds, was defeated by Democrat Thomas G. Lamb for coroner by over 18,000 votes.

Sunday visitors at the Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slothmore were Rev. and Mrs. George Berkheimer, Ambler, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Hezekiah Senft

The four-way race for the three county commissioner posts found Democrats John T. Welsh and Adolph A. Andrews ahead of Republicans George A. Krikory and Thomas R. Lewis.

Hold Narrow Margin
The Democrats held narrow advantages in the races for register of wills, county treasurer, clerk of orphans court and clerk of quarter sessions but were behind slightly in the county surveyor contest.

Despite the rough-and-tumble campaigning only 55,000 voters turned out, considerably below the 63,000 who balloted in last year's gubernatorial race.

LUZERNE GOP INDEPENDENTS TALLY HIGH

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Republicans running under independent banners swept to a complete victory in Luzerne County in Tuesday's election, and a GOP candidate also was elected state senator.

Candidates who defeated a slate backed by ex-Gov. John S. Pine in the primaries took all county offices, and William H. Davis (R), won the seat in the 21st senatorial district in a vote viewed by some as a protest against Gov. Leader's administration. The district is normally Democratic. Davis polled 36,432 to 35,293 for his foe, former state Sen. Peter Margie. The seat was vacated by the death of Sen. Patrick J. Toole.

Elected Wood, Northrup in Wilkes-Barre city, Republican candidates also won a complete victory, capturing the mayor's office and six other municipal posts.

In the county fight, with one district missing of the 411 in Luzerne, former state Sen. T. Newell Wood and J. Bowden Northrup, Wilkes-Barre commissioner, were elected by votes of 72,486 and 72,676, respectively. With one district missing, only 20 votes separated Edward M. Carroll, incumbent, and John Rebar Jr., for the minority county commissioner post. Carroll polled 58,722 votes for 58,702 for Rebar.

In other contests, unofficial returns from 410 districts gave these results: District attorney, Albert H. Aston (R) 71,957; Michael H. Sheridan (D) 59,253; sheriff, Joseph Mock (R) 74,253; William Curwood (D) 57,015; treasurer, J. B. Rutkowski (R) 73,188; V. A. Gavinski (D) 57,240; register of wills, Charles E. Eldam, (R) 72,534; Joseph A. Kozak (D) 58,554; and coroner, Dr. S. M. Stupinski (R) 73,159; M. J. Dragowski (D) 57,213.

Winners in Wilkes-Barre city were Mayor Luther M. Kniffen, returned for his third term; treasurer Tom A. Evans, council, Frank A. Goeckel and J. Harry May; school board, Ben Cohen, Clarence

S. Smith, and Joseph F. De Vizia. Defeated Democrats were Raymond Whalen, for mayor; S. M. Baloga, treasurer, S. Witkowski and T. M. Duffy, council, and J. Kennedy, Robert Shovlin, and Catherine Haughey, school directors.

Republicans also took the municipal contests in Nanticoke, Pittston, and Hazleton.

AN APPRECIATION

To The Voters of Adams County . . .

DEMOCRATS WIN STRONG SUPPORT IN STATE VOTE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pennsylvania Democrats chalked up some significant gains in Tuesday's off-year municipal elections throughout the state with the smashing victory of mayoralty candidate Richardson Dilworth in Philadelphia pointing the way.

The Republicans made one big gain—the state Senate seat contested in Luzerne County. Republican William H. Davis narrowly defeated Democrat Peter F. Margie in a campaign pegged primarily to the candidates' stand on solving the state's tax deadlock. Davis, replacing the late Patrick J. Toole, becomes the first GOP candidate to win the office in 20 years.

Here's how the plus and minuses stacked up on both sides after an examination of the freshly gathered result:

Democrats Strong

Dilworth's victory by more than 130,000 votes over Republican Thacher Longstreth cemented the Democrats' organization in the state's largest city for next year's presidential election. It gave Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr., Democrat, a strong position to bargain from if he seeks his party's nomination for the U.S. Senate against GOP incumbent James H. Duff.

Longstreth's whopping defeat was disheartening to Republicans who hoped a victory in Philadelphia might serve as a rallying point for next year's big election. The Democrats picked up five mayoralty contests while dropping two to the Republicans for a net gain of three City Hall seats in 18 contests. The Democrats ousted Republicans in Allentown, Altoona, Oil City, Reading, and York while losing seats they had held in Coatesville and Dubois.

The GOP lost four county judges running for re-election and full terms.

Expect Malone To Lose

In Allegheny County, Democrats could point to the defeat for Republican James F. Malone in his race for re-election to the district attorney's office. Democrat Edward C. Boyle, a former U.S. district attorney, held a 28,000 vote lead with nearly 83 per cent of the vote counted.

The Democrats swept everything else in the county including the county commissioners' race, re-electing John J. Kane to an unprecedented sixth term and Howard B. Stewart as a substitute candidate for the late Harry W. Fowler. The minority commissioner race was close between Republicans John M. Walker and John M. Kane, no relation of the Democrat.

Malone has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the U.S. Senate or governor. He has been at odds over the past five years with Duff, a Republican power in county politics.

Upheaval In Bucks Co.

A major upheaval occurred in Bucks County where the Democrats were winning major county offices, the first time such an election result had occurred in at least 52 years. This was attributed to the influx of new residents, particularly steelworkers at the U.S. Steel Corp.'s Fairless Works at Morrisville, and the Democratic charge, which later led to arrest, that Republican Coroner Russell J. T. Ferris had padded expense accounts.

In Bucks County also, a Republican, Alfred I. Rubin, running on the Democratic ticket, knocked off Republican incumbent John W. Eckelberry, appointed to the Common Pleas bench by former Gov. John S. Fine last December.

In Montgomery County, Alfred L. Taxis Jr., another Fine appointee, defeated Frederick B. Smilie, Republican, for an Orphans Court post on the Democratic ticket. Taxis was denied GOP organization support for election to a 10-year term.

Reclaim Judgeship In Berks

The Democrats reclaimed the courthouse in Berks County after four years of Republican rule and took over some of the principal offices in Lehigh County.

The party also cut into the Republican majority in Lancaster County with a judgeship contest still a tossup as the final votes were counted.

Apart from these results, the Republicans managed a holding action on the courthouse they had controlled before Tuesday's balloting.

Delaware Goes GOP

In Delaware County, outside Philadelphia, the GOP easily repulsed the most serious Democratic bid there in years, defeating the Chester Democratic mayoralty candidate and piling up big margins in the county races.

The GOP averted a shutout in Philadelphia when state Rep. Wilbur Hamilton edged Councilwoman Constance H. Dallas, a Democrat running with Clark's all-out support, in her bid for re-election. A proposal to amend the state constitution to allow the Legislature to upgrade pensions for retired public workers appeared headed for approval by almost three to one.

That was the only statewide issue on the ballot in Tuesday's voting which was surprisingly heavy. Weather conditions, generally sunny and cool, were considered a big factor in the turnout plus a last-minute rush of interest in the local issues which predominated every contest.

2 ARE FREED ON CHARGES OF KIDNAPING

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — Two white men today were free of all charges in the celebrated case of Emmett Till, the 14-year-old Chicago Negro boy who disappeared while vacationing on his uncle's farm in Mississippi.

A Leflore County grand jury yesterday declined to indict white half-brothers Roy Bryant, 24, and J. W. Milam, 36, on charges of kidnaping Till from the cabin of his sharecropper uncle.

Less than a month ago, a trial jury in a neighboring county found the two half-brothers innocent of murdering Till on grounds there was reasonable doubt about identification of a battered body pulled from the Tallahatchie river.

"The question now arises," said Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins of the NAACP in a statement in New York yesterday, "since Mississippi jurors have determined that Milam and Bryant did not kidnap and murder young Till, who did commit the crimes?"

Cancels $10,000 Bonds
Wilkins said the grand jury action, which cancelled $10,000

bonds posted by the two men, "comes as no surprise to anyone acquainted with the administration of justice in Mississippi."

Till's mother, Mrs. Mamie Bradley of Chicago, commented, "Just about everything has run out on me now. I don't know what to say. I don't see how they could fail to indict those men."

At the murder trial, she identified the body as her son. Defense witnesses, including a doctor and an undertaker, disputed the identification, contending the body was in the water too long to be Till.

The all-white, 20-man grand jury called four men who testified for the state in the murder trial. They were Till's uncle, Mose Wright; farm hand Willie Reed, a Negro who worked on a plantation owned by Milam's brother, Leslie; Sheriff George Smith and Deputy John Ed Cothran.

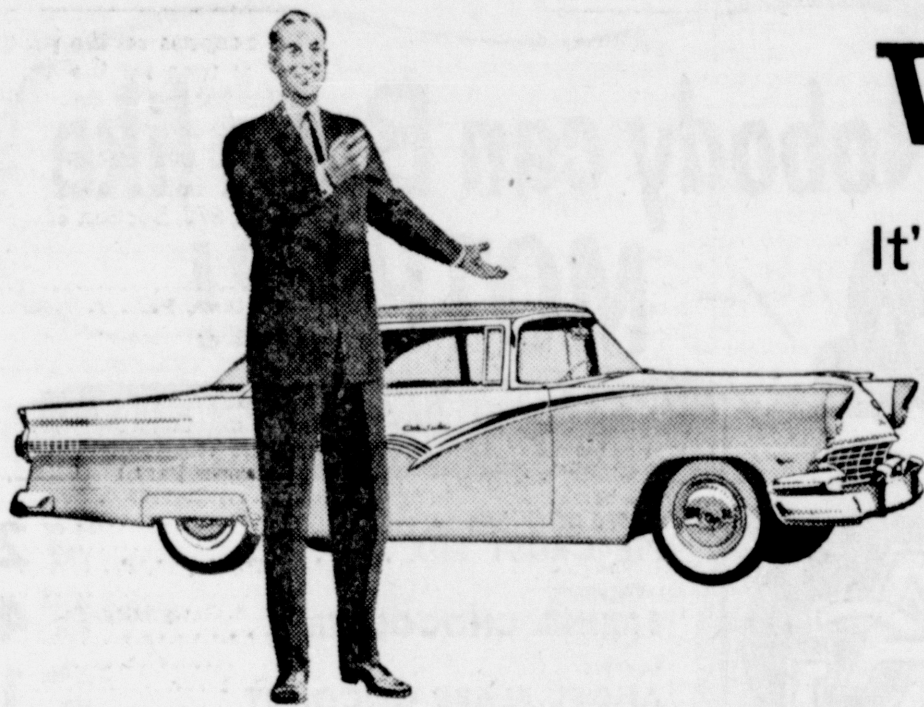

DIFFICULT VISION

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP) — Lindsay Root of the State Highway Department was giving an eye test to a man in connection with a safe-driving program. "Did you know you can hardly see with your left eye?" asked Root. "Sure," the man answered. "It's glass."

WORK DAY

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — Deputy Sheriff Donald Gelling grabbed his gun and keys and hurried to the courthouse. Someone said he saw another someone inside the Lake County Courthouse on a holiday and Gelling was determined to get that so-and-so prowler or else—

Inside he found State's Attorney Robert C. Nelson, who said he thought it would have been a good day to catch up on his work undisturbed.

32 JUDGES WILL SERVE AGAIN IN COUNTY SEATS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Voters of Pennsylvania re-elected 32 sitting judges in Tuesday's election. Eight judges, seven Republicans and one Democrat, were defeated.

In heavily Republican Lancaster County, William G. Johnstone Jr., Republican, defeated H. Clay Burkholder, Democrat, for a full term on the Lancaster County Common Pleas Court.

In the Juniata — Perry Common Pleas contest, Judge Harry B. Cryzler, Democrat, won out by a close margin over William S. Morrow, Republican. The vote was Cryzler 7,655; Morrow 7,421.

Judge W. C. Sheely, Democrat, won election to a third term on the Adams-Fulton County Common Pleas Court, defeating state Sen. Donald J. McPherson, Republican.

An upset in normally Republican Franklin County saw Chauncey M. Deputy, Democrat, unseat Republican Judge Edmund C. Wingard for the Common Pleas Court. Other sitting judges defeated: Theodore R. Gardner, Republican, Lehigh Common Pleas Court, by Kenneth H. Koch, Democrat. Samuel D. Braemer, Republican, Fayette County Common Pleas Court, by Sen. Eustace H. Bane, Democrat.

John W. Eckelberry, Republican, Bucks County Common Pleas Court, by Louis Rubin, Democrat.

Mark E. Garber, Republican, Cumberland County Common Pleas Court, by Robert Lee Jacobs, Democrat.

William Theodore Corbett, Republican, Allegheny County Court, by James M. Guffey, Democrat.

H. Clifton McWilliams, Jr., Republican, Cambria County Common Pleas Court, by Alton A. McDonald, Democrat.

Opposition Included
Judges elected with opposition included:

Montgomery, Orphans Court, Alfred L. Taxis Jr., Democrat, defeated Frederick B. Smilie, Republican.

Erle, Common Pleas Court, Burton R. Laub, Republican, defeated J. S. Julianne Sr., Democrat.

Greene, Common Pleas Court, John Inghram Hook, Democrat, defeated W. Robert Thompson, Republican.

Mercer, Common Pleas Court, Leo H. McKay, and Herman M. Rodgers, Republican, defeated John R. Boland and Hiram M. Drake, Democrats.

No Contest
Three others, not now on the bench, were named judges without a contest. They are Morgan H. Sohn, Beaver County; Robert W.

Trembath, Sullivan and Wyoming; and John V. Diggins, Delaware.

Also chosen at the polls Tuesday were 17 associate judges who assist county judges in clerical matters in rural counties. Three of these men, who do not need to be lawyers, were selected without opposition with the backing of both parties.

They are Andrew Kaul III, Elk County; Randolph D. Gregory, Pike; and W. Arch Sheldon, Wyoming. Another, H. G. Snyder, a Republican, won the post in Snyder County.

In Lawrence County John S. Powers of New Castle won the Common Pleas judgeship. His Republican opponent Leroy K. Donaldson, New Castle attorney, was found shot to death Oct. 9. The death was listed as an apparent suicide. The GOP county committee gave its support to Powers who had lost the GOP nomination but won the Democratic nomination in the primary. Powers succeeds Judge W. Walter Brahm who did not run for re-election.

In Cumberland County Jacobs, 44-year-old former state senator and Carlisle lawyer, was the only Democrat elected. He defeated Garber by 1,365 votes in the unofficial count. Garber was wounded in the Cumberland County courtroom shooting several months ago. Complete unofficial returns in Fayette County gave Bane the job on the bench by a 7,365 vote margin. The Uniontown attorney will have to resign from the Senate before taking his oath as judge in early January.

Earl Baumgardner, U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce Junior tennis champion, is studying at the University of Southern California. Delaware received $1,598,822.71 as tax receipts from thoroughbred racing in 1953.

University Experts

Have Picking Plan

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State University experts have devised a plan they say will increase efficiency of apple pickers by 5 to 10 per cent. Here's how it works:

Picking crews are divided into three groups. One unit stands on the ground and picks all the apples within reach, then moves on to another tree.

The second group follows along with six-foot stepladders, covering the zone from six to 12 feet on the tree.

Finally come the tall ladders experts — the "clean-up" squad who work best at high altitudes.

Mother Hitchhikes To Delivery Room

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich. (AP) — A South Haven woman has some advice for any pregnant woman who's stranded by a car breakdown and can't get to the hospital.

Hitchhike — says Mrs. John Stubbs, 25, mother of twins born by a rule of thumb.

Mrs. Stubbs, now mother of five, gave birth to the twins under harrowing circumstances. When her husband John's car wouldn't start, she thumbed a ride. When that car broke down, she flagged her to a third motorist, who got her to the hospital, 20 miles away from the Stubbs home.

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — A duck got a swim instead of the drink he was apparently seeking.

City policeman N. Blouls said he saw a duck waddle up to the door of a bar and settle down and seemed to be waiting for the bar to open. Louis took the quacker to the city zoo instead.

BEYOND RESTRAINT!

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The daughter of a minister here, when provoked beyond reason, cries "Grand Coulee!" Because Grand Coulee, she says, is the biggest dam in the world.

Russia's Stern Opposition To German Unification Bars Hopes For Any Agreements

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP)—Western leaders agreed Wednesday that Russia's stand on German unification has just about wrecked prospects for any kind of agreement on any issues at the Big Four foreign ministers conference.

Nevertheless, indications were that the U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Pinay would continue their talks with Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov here for several more days in an effort to gauge the extent of his new tough attitude.

The disclosure of this attitude in a speech he made on Germany Tuesday night precipitated a new crisis in East-West relations.

Plan Counter-attack
Dulles, Macmillan and Pinay met at Pinay's residence Wednesday morning to compare their evaluations and prepare their counter-attack for Wednesday afternoon's session with Molotov. Just before noon they were joined by West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano who reportedly made clear his government's agreement to an immediate break-off in the Big Four talks if Dulles, Pinay and Macmillan felt that to be the only recourse.

The discussion apparently covered the possibility of some new conciliatory gesture by Molotov to offset the impact of his German pronouncement yesterday and try to continue some semblance of hope for improving East-West relationships.

Will Injure Other Efforts
But the majority view was that

Molotov's stand as far as Germany is concerned was final, that there is nothing to negotiate on that issue and that this fact would inevitably influence negotiations on disarmament and on East-West travel and information exchanges.

The Western trio decided that one of the most discouraging elements in Molotov's statement was what they considered his breach of the stand taken by Russian Premier Nikolai Bulganin at the summit conference only three months ago favoring friendly negotiation on the problem of Germany.

Since Molotov just returned from Moscow, he was believed to be speaking with obvious authority of the Soviet government. He astonished the West Tuesday as he indicated there were two kinds of Germany that interest him — a divided Germany or a Communist-dominated Germany.

Some Conclusion
Barring some conciliatory gesture by Molotov to follow up his tough declaration — something not impossible in view of past Soviet tactics — these conclusions seemed inescapable:

1. The cold war is still on in a big way. The Soviet Union not only has thrown its full power behind Communism: East Germany, but has made a bid for worker support in West Germany. This, coupled with Russia's bid for power in the Middle East through sale of Communist arms to Egypt, indicates her expansionist policies are still operative.

2. The "Spirit of Geneva," born at the summit conference here in July, has collapsed like a balloon.

DEMOCRATS REGISTER HUGE GAINS TUESDAY

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A victory of landslide proportions was scored by Democrats in Tuesday's election in Scranton and Lackawanna County.

Democratic County Commissioner M. F. Lawler was reelected with his running mate, Joseph F. Conrad. Charles Harte, Republican, was elected minority county commissioner. His running mate, Henry C. Spencer, died several days ago and was not replaced on the ballot. Spencer's name remained on the ballot, however, and had he received more votes than Harte the court planned to name a man to take his place in the county office.

All other Democratic county candidates rode into office with Lawler and Conrad. Democrats also made a clean sweep of school board and councilmanic offices in this city. Their majorities were better than two to one.

Mayor Frank Kelly, Democrat, was reelected in the city of Carbondale, defeating Fred Crocker, Republican, by 2 to 1.

Suydam, said the Soviet stand "tears apart" the directive agreed upon by President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Bulganin, and the other summit leaders for the foreign ministers to consider free elections to unify Germany.

3. The Soviet stand may strengthen the Atlantic Alliance—Country to the relaxing effect of the Geneva spirit. One Western diplomat said, "If this is the kind of Soviet policy we are up against it is a good thing to know it."

4. The impact of the opposed East-West policies on public opinion inside Germany is a critical consideration.

Westinghouse Gives The Axe To Eleven

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Eleven Westinghouse Electric Corp. employees have been fired for what the firm termed "violence and vandalism" in the current strike at its Lester plant.

Edward L. Savitsky, business agent of Local 107, United Electrical Workers, Independent, said in reply that "what Westinghouse was unable to prove under oath in court it is now issuing as propaganda."

William C. Rowland, vice president in charge of the steam division, announced the firings in a company letter. The strike is in its fourth week.

OTHER BUSINESS FORCES STROBEL TO RESIGN POST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Peter A. Strobel, commissioner of public buildings, resigned Wednesday. A House committee had raised questions as to the propriety of his holding the government post while continuing to have an interest in a New York firm of consulting engineers.

The resignation was announced by the General Services Administration—the agency under which the commissioner works. GSA made public Strobel's letter of resignation and a letter of acceptance by Edmund F. Mansure, GSA administrator. The resignation became effective at the close of business Tuesday.

Strobel said it was understood when he entered GSA service June 30, 1954 that he would retain his interest in the New York engineering firm of Strobel & Salzman.

Claims Innocence
He said that at no time had he used or sought to use his official position to further private interest.

"It now appears, however," he said, "that no matter how honorable my conduct and no matter how innocent my intentions, the mere existence of my private business connections will be seized upon by some people to create suspicion and embarrass me and the administration."

"In view of this situation I think it would be better if I returned to my engineering firm, and I, therefore, ask that you accept my resignation, effective immediately."

NEWEST FABRICS BOAST NO-IRON, SMOOTH FINISH

By DOROTHY ROE
The Associated Press

Life is getting easier all the time. Newest labor-saver on the home-sewing and laundering front is a smooth-finish cotton that doesn't need ironing. This will be good news for the nation's army of home seamstresses, who love to sew on cotton, but hate the job of ironing all those pretty cotton dresses.

Here are some tips from experts at your local sewing center, telling you how to sew and care for the new dry-smooth cottons.

Easy To Stitch

Because of their crisp, dry finish, no-iron cottons are unusually easy to stitch. If you are making a garment, first pull a thread to find the grain of the fabric. After the special resin finish is applied to the fabric, it is the rolled onto bolts while it is still wet. This may result in the fabric being stretched a bit. If this has happened, wash the fabric and stretch it out flat to dry. The finish will make the fabric spring back into shape.

Remove selvages before cutting. In dry-smooth cottons just as in ordinary cottons, the selvages dry more slowly than the rest of the fabrics, and could result in puckering.

Causes Puckering

Make adjustments on the pattern piece before cutting. When you select trimmings, be sure that buttons, hooks and eyes, thread and bindings are as washable as your fabric. Watch out for plastic buttons, which may be damaged by excessive heat.

When sewing use mercerized thread and set your machine tension slightly looser than usual. A too-tight stitch will cause puckering.

Even with no-iron cottons, it is essential to press seams as you stitch. Use a steam iron. You will find that pressing as you sew, along seams and facings, will mold the garment to shape so you will not have to worry about ironing it again.

Here are suggestions on washing and drying the garment. Wash by machine or by hand, but never wring the garment. Use any soap or detergent, but avoid chlorine bleaches. When drying, hang the garment on a hanger, dripping wet and smooth collars and cuffs with your fingers.

Dries In 15 Minutes

If your washing machine has a tumble-dry action, this cotton will dry completely in 12 to 15 minutes, about half the time of untreated cottons. If your machine has a spin-dry action, where the excess water is pressed out by centrifugal force, stop the machine before it reaches the spin cycle and hang the garment to drip-dry.

The finish on a no-iron cotton makes it absorb less water than an ordinary cotton. Therefore, it will wrinkle less on a humid day and will stay clean longer.

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — The Wake Forest alumni association, seeking to bring its membership list up to date, inquired about a John Marshall.

"Yes," answered the personnel director—John Marshall.

URGES WOMEN TO MAKE MOST OF ARTIFICE

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

"The smart woman makes the most of artifice," says Lilly Dache, famous for her chic hats, perfumes and cosmetics. She explains:

"If a woman wishes to be unforgettable, a pretty dress and hat are not enough. She must appeal to all the senses with a good perfume and a complexion that complements her fashion scheme."

She suggests that any woman can wear any color she likes, providing she remembers to redo her complexion to harmonize with costume colors.

Heighten Color

That even goes for brown, she says, and even gray haired women can wear it, providing they heighten their complexion color with properly blended powder.

Miss Drache touts the powder wardrobe making the complexion an accessory to fashion. It works this way: Eight tints of powder and four powder toners are packaged together so that with a miniature powder mixture serving as a wand, you can whip up your own powder to flatter your complexion in from 30 to 60 seconds.

Four powder wardrobes for eight types labeled under hair colors from blonde to dark brown, gray and white are available. The proper lipstick, rough, mascara, eyebrow pencil, eye liner and eye shadow are listed for each type too. You look up in your instruction book under yellow, for instance, then mix according to directions and put the blended powder in a storage box and label it "daytime yellow costume."

Fashion fabric color swatches are in the instruction booklets too so that an accurate color description might be noted. New instruction guide books with spring and fall colors will be made available to powder wardrobe users every year.

Motorist Makes Plea In Terrapin Death

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A Richmond man motoring with his family ran over a terrapin. A 12-year-old boy ran up and said bitterly: "Think you're pretty brave, don't you, killing a little turtle." A woman walked over and said it was a terrible thing to do "making two little children cry."

The man said the glare of the boy and his mother had turned a pleasant Sunday into a wretched memory. He took his plight to the Richmond News Leader and asked the editor if there wasn't some way he could make the children — whose names and addresses he did not know — understand he meant to run over their pet on purpose.

An editorial detailed the man's plight and the importance he attached to his standing in the opinion of a 12-year-old boy. And the editorial ended with this:

"Hey, lady! He didn't mean to hit the terrapin. Tell your boy so, will you?"

SCHOOL GROUP TEACHER GUIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National School Public Relations Assn. has put out a newsletter aimed at the year's new school teachers that could be entitled "how to get along with parents."

The Public Relations Assn. is a department of the National Education Assn. The newsletter says "nine times out of 10, it's the little thought-y things a teacher does for children and parents that are remembered longest."

There was the teacher who spent more than week of evenings, delivering the first report cards in person. "In each home, visiting with mother and dad, she was able to answer many of their questions about school," the newsletter says.

Overnight Stay

A second grade teacher invites each girl pupil to her own home for an overnight stay at least once during the school year. "Male second graders have their innings, too," the newsletter adds, "at a lavish backyard picnic at the teacher's house, strictly for 'men'."

A third grade teacher early in the year invites her pupils (in groups of ten) to cookouts in her backyard.

"Enthusiastic guests," says the newsletter, "are ready, willing and eager to organize the cookout and teacher has a fine and relaxing opportunity to observe them working and playing together in a group."

Camera Shots

Suppose teacher doesn't have a backyard for these lavish picnics and cookouts? The newsletter has other suggestions. She could take camera shots of each of her pupils, for instance, mount them attractively and send them to the child's parents as a Christmas greeting.

"Report to parents on what goes on and why in your classroom." "The best way is to get parents to come see for themselves," the newsletter says. If that is not possible, then a quick note is suggested, such as: "John made a grand report today on model airplanes; he certainly knows his hobby." Or "Betsey gets along well with the other children; they like her a lot."

"Parents cherish such notes from you — this is news they really care about," the newsletter says.

PARIS, (AP) — Dogs, kids and such, postman Frank O'Brien says he doesn't mind. But when a squirrel tried to bite him, that was too much. He got a gun and went hunting. Successful, too.

Supreme Court Not Expected To Hear Further Arguments On U.S. Racial Segregation

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court may have listened for the last time to arguments about racial segregation in any place—city or state—that is supported by public tax money, like a school, beach, park, or playground.

It has already laid down the doctrine, giving its reasons at length, that this sort of segregation is unconstitutional. It may never again bother to give its reasons in ruling on any future case of this kind. In any such case appealed to it from a lower federal court, the Supreme Court may simply say "affirmed" or "reversed," depending on whether the lower court has ruled in accordance with, or contrary to, the high court's doctrine.

An indication of this can be read into the way the Supreme Court handled a couple of segregation cases this week.

Gets Written Arguments
In any appeal to the high court from the ruling of a lower court, the lawyers on both sides state their arguments in writing. The nine justices of the Supreme Court get copies of these arguments.

The lawyers can't wait up before the justices and argue orally. It is only when the justices want more information than is contained in the written arguments that they ask the lawyers on both sides to appear in court and speak their piece.

In the 1890s the Supreme Court blessed segregation with a ruling which said Negroes could be kept out of public places reserved for whites, provided that the Negroes, while kept separate, were given public facilities equal to those of the whites. This became known as the doctrine of "Separate but Equal." For half a century no later Supreme Court knocked it down.

Erase "Separate, Equal"
As a result, segregation continued in public schools and other public places throughout the South and in other states. But in 1954 the present Supreme Court unanimously wiped out the "separate but equal" doctrine in the case of public schools.

That kind of segregation, the court said, was unconstitutional and must stop. But this ruling dealt with schools. Did the Supreme Court mean segregation was illegal in other public places, too? For instance, in parks and playgrounds?

Already two test cases were moving through the lower courts. Maryland had segregated public parks and beaches. Georgia had segregated public golf courses. A U.S. Court of Appeals which covers Maryland cited the Supreme Court ruling in the school case, said it applied to parks and beaches, and ordered segregation in Maryland's public parks and beaches ended.

Hear Georgia Case
But another U.S. Court of Appeals, one which covered Georgia, ruled that it was all right to have segregation on public golf courses. Both cases were appealed to the Supreme Court.

The court considered the written arguments of the lawyers in both cases but called none of them to state their cases orally. It had heard long oral arguments in the school case.

The court, deciding its ruling against segregation in public schools applied to segregation in other public-supported places, apparently felt it neither had to listen to more oral arguments nor explain its own position further.

So, in rulings about as brief as it could make them, the high court did this: It said the lower court was right in following the Supreme Court's lead by knocking out segregation in the Maryland case. It said the other lower court was wrong in ignoring the Supreme Court's lead and approving segregation on Georgia's golf links. That meant segregation on those golf links had to end.

JUDGE WINGERD IS DEFEATED

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Democrat Chauncey Depuy won an upset victory from incumbent Republican Edmund C. Wingerd in the election of Common Pleas Judge in Franklin County, a longtime Republican stronghold.

With 69 of 70 districts reported Depuy had 12,258 votes to Wingerd's 10,680.

At the same time Democrats took over control of the county board of commissioners for the first time in 71 years with the election of Democrats Harry A. Peters and Charles G. Schlichter and Republican John B. Baumgardner.

Schlichter is the son of the original Democratic candidate who died two weeks ago, forcing a last minute change in the county's printed ballots.

In another upset, J. D. Goshen, an undertaker, defeated incumbent Dr. S. D. Shull for the post of

Contractor's Hobby Awaits Retirement

WARE, Mass. (AP)—Frank H. Cheever, 69, a contractor who retired to run a filling station, hopes to get somebody to take over his gas station some day—so he can county coroner. Shull was seeking his seventh term as coroner.

Political observers in Franklin County attributed Depuy's victory in the rock-ribbed Republican region to his vigorous countywide campaign.

make a tour of all the covered bridges in New England. That's Cheever's hobby—covered bridges—and he's built 27 models so far.

There's a special reason, he says, why New Englanders developed the idea of leaving openings on the sides. In winter, snow was needed on the bridges to enable horses to pull sleighs through. The openings allowed snow to drift in during snowstorms.

Harry Gilmer still holds Alabama's passing record. He tossed 69 passes for completions for 960 yards in 1946.

Ladies Feel At Home On Scaffold

DETROIT (AP)—A couple of Detroit women with a talent for brushwork have invaded a field thought to be the exclusive domain of men.

Miss Mildred Matyn, 49, and Miss Jerry Chapman, 40, are in constant demand for their work as outdoor signpainters. Both are as much at home on a swingstage, wielding heavy brushes, as their male counterparts.

likes to listen to music, read books and paint portraits. But she discovered some time ago that there's money in outdoor sign painting.

ACADEMIC ROUTE
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Driving along Sunset Blvd. in the fog-smog en route to an appointment, Dr. Wallace Sterling, president of Stanford University, got his directions mixed. Mrs. Sterling quickly straightened him out in simple academic terms: "Why, we're just going toward USC and away from UCLA."

BACKYARD OPERATION
MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—A Miami Okla. physician has a first class exhibit for his game room—and he captured it right in his own backyard.

Dr. J. P. Van Horn found a huge pelican in his yard. The bird apparently had been knocked to the ground by a bolt of lightning.

HARD TO GET
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The prisoner, accused of robbery, was a hard man to arrest. When police arrived at his home, he jumped out the second story window. Then, he feigned a leg injury and broke loose from general hospital. But he finally ended in jail.

SPRINGFIELD, Ore. (AP)—E. Robert Turner, new city manager, found out quickly about the efficiency of the police department. His first day on the job he got a warning from Policeman Fred Jenkins for running through a stop sign.
